New Report In Kidnap Case Stirs Tacoma

Report Asserts Boy's Father Has Dealt Directly With Abductor

DR. MATTSON SAYS REPORT IS UNTRUE

Another Report Says Intermediary Has Been Accepted; Not Verified

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 31.—A report that Dr. William W. Mattson, society physician and father of kidnaped 10-year-old Charles, now missing four days, had dealt directly with the abductor within the last few hours, stirred the northwest to a new tension in the sensational case today.

The report came from a person close to the investigation. He has been particularly cognizant of the activities of the large squad of G-men concentrated here since the boy disappeared from his home last Sunday night under the arm of the swarthy desperado who left a note demanding $28,000 ransom.

The informer would go no further than to say "there's been a meeting". He would not say if Dr. Mattson himself had met the kidnaper or if any emissary of the physician or an intermediary had made the contact. Neither would he say if the ransom had been paid.

Boy On Way Home?

"Do you know if the boy is on his way home?" was the last question shot at the author of the report.

He refused to answer it and ended the conversation.

Unusual activity at police headquarters and at the downtown office building headquarters of the G-men added strength to the report, but the following weakened it.

Dr. Mattson denied it.

Neither the police working on the case, nor the G-men would confirm

Storm Clouds Gather For Princess Juliana's Romance With Prince

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 31—Storm clouds burst today over the romance of Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and Prince Bernhard Zu Lippe-Biesterfield, with the honor of proud Nazis at stake and the German Prince himself facing possible complete ostracization by his native land.

Anti-Nazi demonstrations in Holland during the past few days at public functions at which the fabulously wealthy crown princess and her prince consort-to-be were the guests of honor provided the basis for the storm.

Shadow Of Swastika Falls

The shadow of the Nazi Swastika fell across the Dutch border over the royal romance as Prince Bernhard was subjected to a fierce Nazi outcry giving him the alternatives of exacting personal assurances from a Dutch court that German national honor be respected in Holland, or of risking complete ostracization from Germany.

No less a personage than General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, second man of the Nazi Reich, delivered a

MADRID, Dec. 31.—Leftist counter-attacks in the Madrid sector have cost the "International Brigade," composed chiefly of Russians and Frenchmen, more than 1,000 slain, according to a rebel statement from Cordoba today.

Battles in the Carabanchel and Villanueva de La Canada sections of the Madrid front took a toll of 280 Loyalists as the Madrilenos' assaults were hurled back, said the rebels.

Refuse To Give Up Cargo

In the face of a reported German warning, and increase of the German naval forces off Bilbao, meanwhile, the Basque authorities today sternly refused the Reich's demand that the cargo of the Steamer Palos be given up.

The Basque Governor Aguirre forwarded a copy of the demands of the captain of the Koenigsberg and Aguirre's rejection to the non-intervention committee in London.

The Palos itself was released three days ago, but the captain of the Koenigsberg warned that the Basques must give us its cargo "or suffer the consequences," it was stated here.

The 6000-ton Koenigsberg has now been joined off Bilbao by the Karls-

Peggy Not Aware Intended Husband Fatally Injured

Vivian Jackson, Intended Fifth Husband Of Muchly Married Peggy Joyce Is Dead

(International News Service)

ST. MORITZ Switzerland, Dec. 31.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, lying injured in a hospital today, was still unaware that the man who was to have become her fifth husband is dead.

Miss Joyce, blonde actress, is recovering from the bad bruising she received when the sleigh in which she was riding with Charles Vivian Jackson, 30, raced down a village street and hit a post.

Jackson, rich English amateur jockey, was fatally injured. Miss Joyce is at a hospital in Samaden.

They were to have been married when Mrs. Jackson, who named the American actress as co-respondent, won her divorce.

Firemen Battle Pittsburgh Blaze

Loss Of Between $20,000 And $35,000 In East End In Early Morning Hours

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—After more than three hours, firemen early today conquered an east end fire which caused an estimated $20,000 to $35,000 damages.

Almost a score of firemen were felled by smoke and other injuries while fighting the stubborn blaze in a group of business and residential buildings. The services of six companies were required to extinguish the fire.

Most seriously injured was Battalion Chief William R. Fulham, who, after being twice revived from smoke poisoning, returned to the scene and fell two stories from a ladder, landing on his head. Hospital authorities described his condition as "fairly good" today.

Governor Scouts Story Lindbergh Money Is Found

Gov. Hoffman Characterizes Story As "Journalistic Pipe Dream"

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 31.—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman today characterized as a "journalistic pipe dream" published reports that $21,000 of Lindbergh ransom bills had been recovered by a New Jersey state trooper.

Earlier, at his South Amboy home, the governor had made a brief, noncommittal comment, neither affirming nor denying the story.

"I know nothing about this story," the governor said in a statement issued from his office here. "It is undoubtedly another one of the long list of journalistic pipe dreams conceived in confusion and designed to further mislead the public in its understanding of the Lindbergh case.

"Like the late and beloved Will Rogers, all that I know is what I read in the papers. And I have read in the public press that the Lindbergh case has been completely solved and that all of the ransom money has been accounted for. In view of this, there cannot possibly be any truth to the story."

Marshal Chang Sentenced Today; Pardon Tomorrow

China's Amazing Kidnaping Has Fantastic Upshot In Trial Outcome

(International News Service)

NANKING, Dec. 31. — China's amazing kidnaping had an equally fantastic upshot today when the kidnaper, Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, was sentenced to ten year's imprisonment—but was promised that he would be pardoned tomorrow as a New Year's present.

The special court of the National Military Commission rebuked Marshal Chang for holding Premier Chiang Kai-Shek prisoner for two weeks, and made him promise to be good in the future. Otherwise, the "young marshal," former war lord of Manchuria, escaped unscathed after making one of the most startling "snatches" in history.

Generalissimo Chiang himself recommended leniency for Marshal Chang, and it is now regarded as possible that Chang will be restored to the leadership of his army.

PLAGUE DANGER FACING MADRID

(International News Service)

SALAMANCA, Spain, Dec. 31.—With bodies piled in a heap half a mile long and 300 yards wide, "terrible danger" of plague exists on the front just south of Madrid, a rebel communique today said.

"It is a horrible spectacle," the statement said, "to see over a half-mile front and 300 yards deep, heaps of bodies of reds killed by our grenades and machine guns.

"They are beginning to decompose. We have taken in the bodies nearest our lines by ropes and hooks but the reds don't dare venture out to remove the corpses on their side."

Wife Slayer Wants To Die

Charles Watt In Serious Condition From Self Inflicted Wound

MURDER OF WIFE FOLLOWS QUARREL

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31. — His life in the balance, Charles Watt, 31-year-old Pitcairn husband who pumped four bullets into the body of his stenographer-wife in a downtown office building and then attempted to kill himself, remained in a serious condition in Allegheny General hospital today.

Officials refused to say what the chances of his surviving were, although some sources indicated he had a "good" chance to pull through. The shot penetrated his head and caused a brain concussion, physicians said.

Wants To Die

"Let me die" was his constant plea.

Watt shot his wife after a bitter quarrel over her working, police said. She had left him Tuesday night and his failure to effect a reconciliation precipitated the shooting, they added.

"I couldn't live without her, I couldn't," Watt told homicide detectives.

After killing his wife, Watt, badly wounded, sat down and waited for death. At the hospital he refused to sign a statement prepared by police officials.

Bank Bandits Being Hunted

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 31.—Although police kept a watchful eye on main highways for an automobile bearing two bandits, authorities believed today that the bandit pair who seized $1350 in a Mapleton bank holdup may have fled to a nearby mountain hideout.

The robbers invaded the First National bank, Mapleton, yesterday, forced Clerk Robert Querry to lie on the floor and then scooped up available cash in the cashier's cage. They fled in an automobile.

Querry, only occupant of the bank at the time of the holdup, furnished police with descriptions of the men. It was believed they were the same pair who staged several recent holdups in this region.

Little 1937 Will Breeze In Gaily At Midnight

Regardless of weather, political affiliations or the fluctuation of the dollar, 1937 will arrive in New Castle tonight just as the midnight bells toll out, or maybe it would be better to have them peal. Another year moves into the limbo of forgotten days and a little stranger takes his place.

Old Man 1936 leaves with mixed emotions. His reign saw a lot of tragedy, both personal and collective. Fire and drought, terrible winter, flood and dust storms, plane crashes and train wrecks, war in several countries and rumors of wars in others. A king left his throne for the love of a lady and a president of the United States was elected. Congress met and taxes were increased.

Better Times.

Not all of 1936 was a record to blush over The Old Man who leaves us tonight can point with a finger of pride, three fingers if you wish at a very marked upturn in business. The last ninety days of the year were marked by better business, larger payrolls, heavier sales receipts, and a general feeling that the corner had been turned.

For better or for worse, for good or evil the old gentleman takes his leave tonight. Quavering a bit (punch drunk they call it in the ring) he picks up his staff and as twelve o'clock slides in over the clock, the old man slides out.

A year ago he breezed in a youngster full of vim, vigor and vitality. He knew all the answers, but some of them turned out to be wrong. Some of them were right by the day. But he approached the job with the vigor of youth, and the enthusiasm of callow inexperience.

Today he knows better. The world soon had him on his heels with its

City Pay Increase Requests Refused

Council met in the city building today and upon motion of Councilman James L. Fink, which was adopted unanimously, refused to grant a raise in pay to police, firemen, garbage employes and other city workers.

Petitions asking for a restoration of wages to the amount they received several years ago had been presented recently to council.

Fink's motion, in effect, said the city had no available funds for an increase and this coupled to a wage boost given six months ago, no action should be taken at this time.

NAME WILSON TO SUCCEED MORAN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Appointment of Frank J. Wilson as chief of the secret service was announced today by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. At the same time, Joseph E. Murphy was named assistant chief.

Wilson assumes command of the colorful treasury enforcement unit upon retirement of the veteran chief William H. Moran who has been with the service for 52 years. Moran's tenure of office expires at midnight.

Wilson was transferred to the Secret Service from the Intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau in September following disclosure that treasury agents had been "spying" on G-men headed by J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Injuries Fatal To Auto Victim

Roy Miller, Spruce Street, Victim Of Hit-Run Driver, Dies This Morning

IDENTITY OF DRIVER SOUGHT

Roy Miller, aged 51, of 609 Spruce street, who was struck by a hit-run driver, while crossing East Washington street, near the intersection of Chestnut, at 11 o'clock Christmas night, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:30 this morning. A fracture of the skull is believed to have resulted in his death, and an autopsy will be performed to determine the exact cause, as Miller was not believed to have been critically injured at first.

All that is known about the car which struck Miller was that it was a Ford sedan, and bore an Ohio license plate. The accident was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cartwright, who were walking along East Washington street, near where Miller was struck. They stated that he was crossing the street from north to south. The driver of the car never stopped, but sped away after hitting Miller.

Police were notified and removed the injured man to the hospital, where he died this morning.

Coroner Orville Potter is conducting an investigation in an effort to learn the identity of the driver of the car, if possible.

Mr. Miller was born on September 22, 1884, in Mercer county, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Miller, who survive and are residing at Sandy Lake.

For the past 30 years he had been an employe of the Shenango Works, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation. His wife, Bessie Mae McGaffic Miller, died 15 years ago. In 1929 he lost two sons, Walter and Carl, in a tragic drowning accident, and in the following year a third son, Wilbert, met death in an automobile crash.

There are surviving, besides his parents, three sons, Earl L., of Meyer avenue, Leroy K. and Mendel, at home, and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. J. L. Glenn, of Tidioute, Miss Ethel Miller, of Sandy Lake, Judson L., of Williams street, Donald W., of New Castle R. D. 6, Cecil, of Sharon, Harry and Fred, of Sandy Lake.

The body will be at the Jos. B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, until Friday at noon and friends

Kidnap Attempt Costs Man His Life

Shot To Death In Battle With Officers In Texas—Identity Not Fully Established

(International News Service)

PORT LAVACA, Tex., Dec. 31.—Shot by a Texas sheriff and a city marshal as he attempted to kidnap three persons, the body of a man tentatively identified as Wade A Smith, 34, Rockford, O., lay in a local morgue today as officers sought to definitely identify him.

Sheriff J. D. O'Neal, 63, and Marshal George Livingston shot and killed Smith in a brief, but furious running gun battle on a road near here last night. O'Neal was shot in the leg in the exchange of gunfire.

Smith, the officers said, had attempted to kidnap Mr. and Mrs Ben Wasserman and their daughter Bennie Mae last night. Mrs. Wasserman jumped from the car and called the sheriff. Shortly after the gunman had forced Wasserman and his daughter from the car, he drove into a trap set by O'Neal and Livingston.

The sheriff was wounded in the first exchange of shots. It was then the two officers said they shot to kill. Smith was instantly killed by shotgun slugs and pistol bullets.

His body was ordered held until fingerprints could be checked.

United States Moves Swiftly On Neutrality

Clears Itself Of Any Hint Of Intervention In Spanish War

PLANE SHIPMENT PLANS WILL FAIL

Speedy Legislation Will Be Enacted By Congress To Meet Situation

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. The United States took swift, emphatic steps today to clear itself in the eyes of European powers of any hint of intervention in the Spanish civil struggle.

At a White House conference summoned by President Roosevelt, plans were perfected for speedily plugging the loophole in the present neutrality act which permitted licensing of a shipment of airplanes to Spain.

Simultaneously, the State Department formally notfied five European non-intervention powers shipment of the $2,777,000 order of aircraft will not leave the United States for from two to six months, if at all.

To Rush Legislation

By the end of next week Congress is expected to rush through an emergency amendment to the present neutrality embargo law making it applicable to a nation in the throes of civil war.

This amendment, paving the way for permanent and far more drastic legislation to insure this nation's neutrality, would immediately halt any shipment of aircraft or arms to Spain.

Slight Change In Pope's Condition

Critical Hours Immediately Ahead For Pontiff, Reports Indicate

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

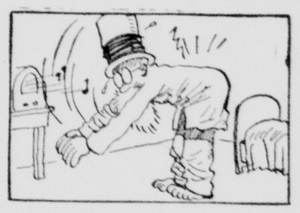

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 31. — Despite the present slight improvement in the condition of Pope Pius, beginning with disappearance of a blood clot in his leg yesterday, the Pontiff faces critical hours immediately ahead, it was learned today.

The Vatican awaited tensely outcome of a special treatment for gangrenous ulcers on the Pope's left leg. Several high officials were frank in admitting they believed that in view of the Pope's steadily sinking condition in recent weeks, the chances of any treatment being successful were extremely slight.

The involved treatment, authorities said, might well prove fatal because of the Pontiff's weakened heart condition.

In event of failure of the treatment, the most advanced method known to medical science for localization of gangrenous surfaces, operations for removal of individual ulcers must be attempted.

Here's another year that has slipped away and another is ready to step right in, a chance to forget what we didn't do, another chance for us all to begin, to do the things that we know ar right, to shun the things that we know are wrong, to help a bit where we see the need, to start each day with a bit of a song. Another chance to be square and right, and lighten some loads as we go our way, another year and another chance, the weather is forty four today.

RELIEF LEGISLATIVE PROBLEM

Temporary Raids On Funds Likely

Need Money To Keep Relief Going Until Tax Plan Is Completed

MANY FACTORS TO AFFECT SITUATION

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—Raids on special funds to provide for the commonwealth's needy during the first few months of the 1937 general assembly appeared inevitable to administration leaders today.

Although the administration's policy during the first 1936 emergency session had been definitely opposed to this, leaders privately admitted they could see no other possible means of raising funds until the proceeds of newly enacted—or continued—tax bills come in.

Meanwhile, State Relief Director Karl DeSchweinitz told International News Service the Goodrich committee, which only recently recommended to Gov. George H. Earle the complete reorganization of public assistance administration, is preparing an estimate for relief during the coming biennium.

Many Factors Involved.

Many factors, some unpredictable at this time, were involved in arriving at an approximate figure necessary to carry the commonwealth's relief burden for the next few years.

Most of all, DeSchweinitz said, much is dependent upon what the federal government will do in way of lightening the state's rolls thru continuation of the WPA, PWA and other federal-aid agencies.

Too, DeSchweinitz pointed out, business conditions will have an important bearing on what funds will be finally required for relief. During most of the past year the relief rolls have dropped consistently because of private employment and federal-aid programs, but the trend has been just the opposite of late.

DeSchweinitz indicated that cost of administration, even with added economies effected were all or most of the Goodrich committee's recommendations adopted, was "negligible" in comparison with the total appropriation required for the biennium.

Staff Is Cut.

"We have cut our staff by 5,800 persons this year and have effected other economies," DeSchweinitz said, "and as a result our efficiency has been hampered considerably; in fact the retrenchment has been expensive."

According to present estimates the relief funds available will carry the load until the first of February. Between that time and the time appropriations can be enacted and taxes agreed upon—this usually comes toward the closing weeks of the session—administration leaders believe it will be necessary to tap the special funds.

The first 1936 extraordinary legislative session provided $45,000,000 for relief, raised on tax anticipation notes. The 1935 regular session provided for $60,000,000 for the biennium. The chief executive in botn instances held the funds would not be sufficient. It is anticipated that some $15,000,000 will have to be taken from special funds to "carry over" the relief burden until the legislature decides upon an appropriation and how to raise it.

warning to the prince, according to the national Zeitung. The paper quoted Goering as saying in a speech at Essen:

"If the prince does not intervene after the Dutch have besmirched then he has no character and is not a good German.

"A German without a national conscience cannot be regarded as a German, and in such a case we could not possibly congratulate Holland on its new prince.

The newspaper Boersen Zeitung said, "We hope the Prince understands what he must do under the circumstances."

Former Nazi Storm Trooper

In connection with the furore it was pointed out the prince is a former Nazi storm trooper, and all storm troopers must have permission of their superiors to marry, with approval of the bride necessary. Thus the storm troopers at last have this much paternal interest in the romance.

But at the real root of the trouble lay the attacks upon Nazi honor made in Holland. Informed German circles were confident the prince "could handle the matter himself satisfactorily and avoid a smash-up of the romance."

Nevertheless the German press howled and clamored that the prince himself make a public declaration of his loyalty to Nazi Germany. Attention turned to him personally as official angles began to clear up.

German-Dutch political and diplomatic tension was dispersed somewhat, easing the princes' position, with granting of an official Dutch apology, delivered to the German ambassador at the Hague, for an attack upon the Nazi Swastika at one Dutch function.

ruhe, a cruiser of the same class, and a German destroyer is standing by.

A communique issued by the foreign office said:

"After the departure of the Palos, the captain of the Koenigsberg addressed a radio message to the president of the Basque government. Arguing that the Palos had been stopped 23 miles from the Spanish coast, he demanded immediate restitution of the seized merchandise and liberation of the Spaniard (who was a passenger.)

"He added that in the event of a negative answer the Basque government would have to suffer the consequences.

In Spanish Waters

"The president replied that the Palos was stopped in Spanish territorial waters, and that a British destroyer which was present could testify to this.

The president said it was definitely established that there was war material aboard, consisting of a quantity of a gun-cotton compound prepared for the manufacture of munitions, and a number of field telephones."

Rejoicing in Loyalist Spain over the prospect of receiving airplane engines from the United States was dimmed today by Washington dispatches indicating some means had been found to prevent the shipment.

These dispatches said the United States notified European powers that the $2,777,0000 airplane shipment would be held up "two to six months" hinting that by that time neutrality legislation would have been passed preventing the shipment altogether.

There was no estimate today of the dead in the blasting of a rebel troop train by mines in the Talavera sector. The train carried 35 cars and, on the basis of the old war-time "hommes 40," it may have borne as many as 1400 soldiers.

Oliver C. Huffman, aged 65 years, died at his home, 724 Chestnut street, at 9:30 a. m. today after a lingering illness.

Mr. Huffman was born at Clintonville, Venango county, on May 14, 1871, son of Archibald and Nancy Irwin Huffman. Thirty-eight years ago he married Elizabeth Blake, who survives. He also leaves a son, Irvin T. Huffman, of New Castle, two grandchildren, three brothers, William J., of Clairton, Pa., Robert and Arch, of New Castle, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Kales of Leavittsburg, O.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Campbell funeral home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Fair Oaks cemetery, New Wilmington.

The family will be at the funeral home where friends may call from 7 to 9 o'clock Friday evening.

Mrs. McLean Funeral Time

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura McLean will be conducted at the home of her daughter, Mrs Etta Ritchner, in Koppel, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock. Interment will be made in Allegheny cemetery, Pittsburgh.

Nero Child's Funeral

Requiem high mass for Lena Frances Nero, little resident of South Beaver street, was celebrated this morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church, with Rev. Fr. S. F. Anuszkiewicz officiating.

Burial was made in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were Lucille Barlett, Angelyn Mastren, Peggy Barlett and Rose Nero.

C. C. Cunningham

C. C. Cunningnam, a prominent and lifelong citizen of Wampum, died at his home this morning after a lingering illness.

Mr. Cunningham was 68 years old, having been born on the first day of December, 1868, son of H. Ira and Louise Wilson Cunningham. For 26 years he was in business in a general store with the late W. H Braby; he sold out to the Crescent Cement company and was later interested in construction work.

Mr. Cunningham was a member of the Presbyterian church, a charter member of the K. of P., No. 440, and had a life membership in the B. P. O. E., No. 69.

He is survived by his wife, Maude Braby Cunningham; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Grinnen, of Wampum; a half-brother, J. I. Cunningham, of Koppel, and a niece, Mary Elizabeth Wagner, of Wampum. His son, Louis B. Cunningham, preceded him in death.

Funeral arrangements will be announced Saturday.

Court Crier Vance Enters Guilty Plea

Is Presented With Gifts And Paroled In Care Of His Bride-Elect

Neither civil, criminal nor equity, the last case of 1936 came before the judges of the Lawrence county court today and was handled with neatness and dispatch. Pleadings, arguments and sentence met with the the approval of all parties concerned.

At 9:45, Clifford L. Vance, court crier, in and for the county of Lawrence S. S., was haled before the court charged with intent to commit matrimony. Evidence offered was the fact that he had applied for a license to wed in the office of Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar. Mr. Vance admitted to the charge and said that his intentions were honorable.

Sitting as president judge pro tem, Judge W. Walter Braham then took judicial notice of the fact that while Mr. Vance had been connected with the courts for but a year he had learned fast. Judge Chambers concurred in the opinion of his colleague. He then asked Registration Chief Clerk Thomas C. Edmunds to pass sentence. Mr. Edmunds presented Mr. Vance with an electric mixer and a waffle iron as a token of the employed personnel and the officers of the court house. Mr. Vance replied with a short speech of appreciation.

Sitting as the jury in the case were the officers and employes of the court house. The prisoner was paroled for life in the care of his bride-to-be, Miss Mary A. Powell. They will be married tonight in the residence of the birde at 111½ East North street by Rev. C. K. McGeorge of the Second U. P. church.

Acting Secretary of State R. Walton Moore, Senator Key Pittman (D) of Nevada, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, and Rep. McReynolds (D) of Tennesee, chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, on the proposed new neutrality law.

To Give President Power

The new act will give the President broad discretionary authority in the declaration of embargoes, it was learned.

In its note to Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Russia and Spain, the State Department expressed "sincere regret" for the insistence of the naturalized American, Robert Cuse, Jersey City secondhand dealer, in violating the spirit of the United States "strict non-intervention policy".

The department explained it was powerless to deny issuance of an export license under the present law, but gave frank assurance this country is striving to maintain neutrality in the Spanish conflict.

Meanwhile, the furore raised over the attempt to send assistance from America to Spain brought these disclosures:

Some Disclosures

1. The Vimalert Co., of which Robert Cuse is now president, was revealed in records of a House committee investigating communistic activities in this country in 1930, to have been used as an overhaul plant for U. S. army Liberty aircraft engines which were shipped illegally to the Soviet.

2. Secretary of War Woodring admitted that 150 worn out or condemned army airplane engines had been sold Vimalert this year. Another sale of engines to a New York exporter, Woodring said, may be held up "indefinitely".

3. An investigation of the activities of Robert Cuse, the Russian-born "mystery" man, was threatened by the Senate munitions committee.

4. The Soviet embassy denied the purchase of the Spanish airplane order had been financed by Moscow.

INJURIES FATAL TO AUTO VICTIM

may call there. It will then be removed to the home of his brother, Judson L. Miller, 1026 Williams street, where it will remain until the time of the funeral.

The services will be on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Fred Smith, in charge.

St. Margaret's Church New Year's Program

New Year's Day in St. Margaret church, corner of Clayton and Second streets, will be celebrated as the Feast of the Circumcision of our Lord. Masses will be celebrated at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.

Seven More Drivers Arrested Last Night On Dimming Charge

Seven more "no dim" drivers were arrested on Wednesday according to the state highway patrol and were taken before aldermen and fined the usual $10 and costs of $2.50.

The campaign will go on until the highway patrol is satisfied that drivers are dimming for the other fellow on the highway, it was said.

Tax Levy Measure Passed By Council

Council met in formal session for the last time this year, today, at city hall and adopted the appropriation and tax levy ordinances.

According to the appropriation measure $544,916.50, must be raised to operate the city in 1937.

The council then passed the tax levy ordinance in which the levy was placed at 11½ mills divided as follows: for general revenue purpose nine mills; for library purposes one half mill and for sinking fund purposes, two mills.

AWARD INSURANCE

During council meeting at the city building today, colleagues acting upon a recommendation of Finance Director James L. Fink, awarded to the Fidelity and Casualty company, for whom Knox & Moorehead are the agents, the contract for the city's Workmen's Compensation insurance. According to Fink $5,640 was budgeted for insurance in 1937.

NEW REPORT IN KIDNAP CASE STIRS TACOMA

it, holding to their policy of refusing to discuss their investigation.

Newspapermen observing the physician's pretentious hilltop home overlooking beautiful Commencement bay said none had left the house during the night or early today; neither had there been any visitors. They could not tell if there had been any phone calls.

Physician Says No

"No," answered the physician brusquely when asked if he or anyone representing him had made contact with the kidnaper. However, he is under instructions from the G-men not to talk about the case, instructions he has followed pretty faithfully.

Another report, also unconfirmed, was that Paul Sceva, a close friend of the Mattson family and manager of the Rainier National bank company, operating concessions in the national playground, had been appointed by Dr. Mattson as intermediary or had been accepted in this capacity by both the doctor and the abductor.

The only thing tangible that might indicate this to be true was that Sceva could not be found by newspapermen. Friends of his said he left Tacoma last night—just that and nothing more.

The English are understandable. A lot of Americans hate to see a member of their ruling family marrying a DuPont.

Best Cough Remedy You Ever Used Is Home-made

Double-quick Relief.
Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

No matter what you might spend for medicine, you couldn't get quicker, better relief from coughs that start from colds than this simple home mixture gives. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it beats anything you ever tried. It has a remarkable three-fold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Miss Dorothy Myers of Richman, O., who formerly resided on North Mercer street, this city, has concluded a visit at the home of Virginia Callahan, Moody avenue.

Miss Myers graduated from Kent Teachers Prep school at Kent, O., and is now teaching in the Richman, O., consolidated schools.

FIELD CLUB BRIDGE EVENT OF WEDNESDAY

A change in regular dates for the regular bi-weekly evening bridge parties planned for Field club members didn't detract in any measure from the crowd which attended the event Wednesday night. A large number of players were on hand to share in competing for honors. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fenton were hosts.

Those fortunate in receiving prizes were Mrs. A. H. Davis, Jr., Miss Verna Tratz, C. H. Young and A. B. street.

The serving of an appetizing lunch followed, and their next social of this nature is dated for Thursday, January 14. Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Young will preside as hosts.

The annual New Year's Eve "watch" party will be held in the club rooms tonight for the pleasure of its membership, festivities to begin at 10 o'clock.

PHRI-NITES CLUB PARTY AT CASTLETON

In winding up the old year, and as a medium of celebrating the holiday period, associates of the Phri-Nites club met Wednesday evening at The Castleton hotel for a special 7 o'clock dinner party.

The appointments carried out the theme of the season, and after partaking of a sumptuous full course menu, attention was given over to card playing. Misses Ella Scanlon and Thelma Rose received the lovely prizes. They had as their special guest, Mrs. Margaret Hogan.

Miss Helen Eckelberger of Sheridan avenue will receive the group for their initial event of 1937 at her home on January 13.

Friendship Club.

Especially delightful, was the gathering of Friendship club members Wednesday evening, in the lounge of the Castleton hotel when Mrs. Mike Cassella entertained in a most pleasing manner at their regular event.

Three tables of players competed for honors, Mrs. Fred Marcella receiving the prize. A tempting lunch was served afterwards and following, they set January 13 for the date of the next gathering. Mrs. Paul LaScola of Mulberry street, will be hostess.

WALTER HEMPHILL TO WED PHILADELPHIAN

Announcement is made of the engagement of Ruth Jessie Schaubel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Schaubel of Philadelphia, and Ventnor, N. J., to Walter T. Hemphill of New Castle.

Mr. Hemphill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hemphill of 111 South Jefferson street, this city. He is a graduate of Thiel college '34, and is now a senior at Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. He is a graduate of New Castle High school, class 1930.

GIBSON-SCOTT NEWS ANNOUNCED AT PARTY

Mrs. Mary A. Gibson, Pulaski, entertained Wednesday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mary Helen, to announce her engagement to Robert Marshall Scott, of Niles, O.

The afternoon was spent very informally in games and musical selections. Later the guests were invited to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served, in keeping with the holiday season. Upon pulling a ribbon which extended from each favor to the holly centerpiece, a small envelope containing a card revealed the news, "Helen and Marshall". The dinner was served by Mrs. Gibson, assisted by Mrs. Charles Gibson, Youngstown, who was also a special guest.

Miss Gibson has been teaching in the Bessemer schools for a number of years. Mr. Scott is the son of Mrs. W. P. Scott of Pulaski. Out-of-town guests were present from New Castle, Bessemer, Hillsville, Plaingrove and Youngtsown.

LUNCHEON AFFAIR FOR ALPHA GAMMA DELTAS

Alpha Delta girls had luncheon in a popular tearoom Tuesday, to celebrate the holiday season. Both undergraduate and alumnae members were present, there being covers for 16 guests.

Fragrant roses, the fraternity flower, were used on the table for a centerpiece, with sprigs of holly and mistletoe adding to other decorations about the room.

Mrs. Orville Brown won the prize at bridge following, and the committee in charge consisted of Misses Charlotte Bartlett and Gretchen Smith.

On the fourth Tuesday in January the next regular meeting will be at the home of Emily Parker, on Morton street, with Mrs. Paul Reynolds, of Ellwood City associate hostess.

'27 Quilting Club Organized

A group of women assembled in the home of Mrs. Roy Davis, Knox street, Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing into a club. They will be identified as the 1937 Quilting club and their first regular meeting is scheduled for Saturday evening, with Mrs. Davis hostess. Quilting will feature.

Officers elected composed Mrs. E. B. Ray, president; Mrs. Belle Hopwood, vice president and reporter; Mrs. Roy Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Julia Miller, secretary, and Mrs. Amanda Woodworth, financial secretary.

Ye Towne Club Members.

Members of t Ye Towne club will meet January 9 with Martha Muse, Fairmont avenue, it is announced. Their meeting was previously dated for last week.

New Wilmington Couple Observe Golden Wedding

It was back on December 29, 1886, in a pretty little home in Andes, N. Y., when James Coulter, young carpenter, took as his wife Miss Harriett Gladstone in an attractive wedding at the bride's home. They were united in marriage by Rev. Leslie Hawk, who was graduated from Westminster college in 1877.

"It was just an old fashioned wedding like you read about," was Mrs. Coulter's only description of the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulter moved to New Wilmington in 1910, where Mr. Coulter continued working as a contractor and carpenter until 1918, when he started working in the New Wilmington bank where he has been employed ever since.

They are the parents of two sons, Andrew S. Coulter of Cleveland and Dr. Harry Coulter of Clarks Summitt. Each son is the father of two boys. The four grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Coulter are Robert and Charles, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coulter, and Richard and William, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Coulter.

Fifty years following the attractive wedding in Andes, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. James L. Coulter were hosts at their beautiful home on West Neshannock avenue, New Wilmington, to guests from New Wilmington and vicinity who called to congratulate the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary. The anniversary was held Tuesday afternoon and evening.

One hundred and forty-five visitors were registered at the Coulter home Tuesday. During "open house" a light lunch was served to each guest. Out of town guests at the anniversary were Miss Kathryn Hastings of Oneonta, N. Y., niece of Mrs. Coulter's; Miss Jane Hastings of Fleischmann, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. William Murdock of Canonsburg, Pa.

Beautiful flowers, gifts of all descriptions, cards and telegrams filled the Coulter home with congratulations as the anniversary progressed. Included on the list of gifts were dishes, furniture, silverware and numerous other items.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Coulter are in the best of health and are active in church and social organizations.

SYLVIA LEE MARTIN HOSTESS TO CLUB

Delightful hospitality was extended members of the Tri-Quad Bridge club Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Sylvia Lee Martin, Park avenue, who entertained at their usual bi-weekly event.

Special guests of the occasion included a group of their associates who are visiting in this vicinity over the holiday period, and include Mrs. Howard Kiel (nee Mae Cromie) of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. John Edward Patterson (nee Alice Throop) of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. William Gillespie of New Wilmington, Pa.

Tables of bridge held sway, lovely awards going to Mrs. William Gillespie and Mrs. John Edward Patterson. At the close of the contest, they were served a most delicious chili menu at the dining room table, attractively appointed in a color theme of red and white. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Harvey E. Martin, in serving.

Mrs. A. G. Reynolds of Garfield avenue invited the club members to her home on January 13 for their next event.

LAWRENCE CHAPTER MEETS SATURDAY

Lawrence Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will have the first meeting of the New Year on Saturday, the second, at the home of Mrs. John Woods, 117 East Moody avenue.

Miss Rose Barber will give a book review following the usual business period.

Assistant hostesses are: Mrs. W. H. Lutkart, Mrs. William Kleckner, Mrs. William Mitchell, Miss Annie Mitcheltree, Mrs. S. A. Weinschenk, Mrs. J. N. McMillin, Mrs. Nellie Brooks, Mrs. J. F. Rentz, Miss Helen Moseley.

F. F. C. Club Meeting

Sessions for the F. F. C. club were resumed Wednesday evening when they met in the home of Mrs. P. J. Daugherty, Grandview avenue. Miss Nettie Holliday was associate hostess.

The time was spent in playing 500, Mrs. J. A. Rooney, Mrs. S. A. Hanna and Miss Mary Cunning receiving the prizes. Special guests who shared in the competition included Mrs. E. D. Coyne, who was recipient of the hostess gift; Mrs. S. A. Hanna, Mrs. N. H. Kiefer, Mrs. E. D Mulcahy and Mrs. J. A. Carrigan.

In serving lunch at a late hour the hostesses were aided by Mrs. Minnie Devlin and Mrs. E. D Coyne. Their next assembly will be announced.

J. F. F. CLUB GIRLS AT McGOWAN HOME

Miss Ellen McGowan, Lyndal street, was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the J. F. F. club in her home entertaining informally with cards. Special guests included Stella Malloy and Margaret McGowan, the former being recipient of the hostess gift.

In bridge, trophies fell to Mary Sullivan and Eleanor Rohrer, the galloping award going to the latter. The serving of a dainty repast followed, the diningroom table being cleverly decorated with an artistic arrangement of snapdragons and lighted tapers. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Emmett Dagnon with the menu.

On January 14, the club will meet with Mary Sullivan, West Madison avenue.

BRIDE HONORED AT BRIDGE CLUB

Complimentary to Mrs. George Duncan, the former Agnes Schuller, the latest bride in the London Bridge club, associates honored her by the presentation of a beautiful gift when they met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Campbell, on Shaw street.

Other gifts were exchanged among the girls as the affair marked the annual Christmas festivity. Cards were played, the awards going to Elsie Latimer and Helen Carpenter. In serving a dainty repast, the hostess was assisted by her sister, Eleanor Critchlow.

Frances Dean, of Atkinson street, will have the next meeting on January 13.

Marjorie Hildebrand Hostess

Miss Marjorie Hildebrand, cleverly entertained a group of high school graduates at her home on Delaware avenue Wednesday evening, with a program of games and dancing featuring the leisure time.

Miss Dorothy Donhany pleased with a song and dance skit, and a novelty dance-duo, was contributed by Irene Greenberg and Dorothy Ward. Following, refreshments were served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. R. L. Hildebrand. Holiday colors predominated throughout.

Miss Hildebrand and Miss Ruth Gibson, who are attending Grove City College, originated the event as a medium of getting together with their former local high school chums.

Kirkham-Badger

Announcement is made of the marriage of Lucille Kirkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kirkham, of 110 Lawrence avenue, Ellwood City, to Glenn Badger, of East New Castle.

The ceremony took place July 3, 1936, at New Cumberland, W. Va., with the Rev. McDevitt, Jr., officiant. The couple will make their home with the groom's mother, Mrs. Amy Badger, R. D. 7.

Y. M. M. Club

A Yule party was enjoyed by the Y. M. M. club Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. William Mort, on Hemlock street.

After a delightful gift exchange, cards were played with Mrs. Grace Houk the fortunate winner. Refreshments concluded the evening.

The next meeting will take place January 20 at the home of Mrs. George Bloise, 308 South Jefferson street.

Progressive Bridge Club.

Progressive Bridge club associates will meet Thursday evening, January 7, at the home of Mrs. James T. Deane, 510 East Leasure avenue, for their regular period of card playing.

TWO CLASSES FROM CHURCH IN PARTY

Classes from the First Christian church which are taught by Mrs. Frank Hoover and Mrs. Esther Eakin, held a joint party Tuesday evening in the church parlor. This being the annual Christmas party, the decorations were in keeping with the season.

A most enjoyable evening was spent by the members in playing ping pong, shuffle board and various other games found in the church. Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Eakin, assisted by several of the girls in Mrs. Eakin's class, served a steaming hot chili supper at a given time during the evening.

Following the repast, the 20 persons present again were entertained by playing games. The next regular meeting for Mrs. Hoover's class will be held during the latter part of January in her home on Hemlock street.

N. S. Club.

A delightful time was enjoyed by members of the N. S. club Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Dom Colella, High street. A short business discussion was held, with sewing and bingo occupying the remaining hours. Mrs. Adeline Volpe received the contest prize and club tokens were given to the latter and Mrs. Mike Cassella.

In serving lunch, the hostess was aided by her daughter Teresa. Miss Mary Piccari and Mrs. Patsy Benincase were special guests.

Mrs. Sam Colella, Agnew street, will entertain at her home on Wednesday of the coming week.

CHINESE LUNCHEON FOR RE DEAL CLUB

A savory Chinese luncheon menu tempted Re Deal club girls following a game of cards Wednesday evening, in the new home of Mrs. J. H. Jones, on West Moody avenue. The table was attractive with a centerpiece of roses, and in serving, the hostess had the assistance of Clara Bernine.

Miss Bernine and Miss Dorothy Kay won smart favors at cards. Before departure, the former invited the group to her home on Northview avenue for the next gathering, which will be on Thursday evening, January 14.

NEW YEAR HOPES

WHY is it that the first day of January has always seemed so much more fascinating to people than any other day of the year? January 1 does not differ from May 31 or July 15 in any particular respect, except that it is colder than those dates. If people wanted to make new resolutions, or do any of the things that seem to go with New Year's day, any date in the 365 days would be equally appropriate.

New adventure, new experiences, always seem fascinating. The world has a habit of dreaming about the future. If people are starting out on some new experience, they cherish happy anticipations of the nice things that are going to happen. Lady fortune is going to smile on them in these new scenes, new chances for success are going to open up from unexpected quarters, new joys will brighten their lives.

So when the prospect of a new year opens up, it seems like a journey into some undiscovered country. There are so many wonderful possibilities in that new year, so many things could and may occur to bring happiness. The world dreams, as it sees the old year fading out of sight. It shouts, "Happy New Year," with the feeling that these things are possible.

Many of these things really are possible. The only thing that keeps many of them from happening, is the weakness that exists in our own natures. If we could conquer our old faults, go ahead with courage, many of these wonderful things would happen.

That is why New Year resolutions were once a common habit. The cynical world laughs at them now, and says they are all forgotten in 30 days. But it is still true that our fates for the New Year are very largely in our own hands. We make or mar them by our own acts.

CELESTIAL WANDERERS

From Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, comes the report of a day-time meteor which fell into the sea and threw up a gigantic spout of water. Some observers saw it as a flaming ball of fire, followed by smoke and an explosion.

Rare as is the actual sight of a meteor in close proximity to the earth, astronomers tell us that, were it not for the belt of atmosphere encircling the globe, we should be subjected to constant bombardment. Rushing through the air at approximately 25 miles a second, these transient bodies usually burn themselves up before striking the planet.

The Harvard Observatory has declared that, if the Newfoundland meteor had flashed across the sky at night, it would have brightened the world to the degree of full moonlight.

DANGEROUSLY NICE DAYS

There is an ancient proverb that "a green Christmas makes fat graveyards." This is hardly a cheerful afterthought of the festive season, made more pleasant for most of us by weather which would have done credit to a month of spring, but facts and figures confirm it.

It is partly the weather's fault that casualties of the holiday week-end reached a dreadful total of 761, with 555 deaths blamed on traffic accidents. The fatalities far outnumbered those of the double holiday last Fourth of July. Open weather and open roads encouraged too many merrymakers to drive carelessly and recklessly and many of them will drive no more.

In the larger cities another aftermath of calamity is blamed on the pleasant weather. In the poorer sections of New York City and elsewhere there has broken out a small epidemic of bronchial colds, grip and pneumonia. More precisely, the hospital authorities put the blame on poor ventilation in overheated dwellings and a disregard of precaution in venturing outdoors. This was winter weather, in other words, though it seemed more like spring, and the sunshine and warmth were more dangerous to health because they were so pleasantly out of season.

BUSINESS COMING OUT OF THE RED

Secretary Roper's report on business for the fiscal year 1936 would doubtless have been even more encouraging if it could have completely covered this calendar year. For the last six months, necessarily not included in his statement, have witnessed even more substantial signs of recovery than he now records, even without counting the great improvement in the holiday-shopping season.

Mr. Roper notes some significant trends and makes one reference to this calendar year in his estimate of national income of $60,000,000,000, which he believes will equal income paid out for the first time since 1929. In other words, business as a whole is regarded as "out of the red."

As for the twelve months preceding last July, Secretary Roper reports a marked increase in the output of durable goods, an improvement, though not so great, in the non-durable goods industries and the fact that the forward movement, once begun, was not checked by any important setback at any time.

Regarding relief, in which business is so much interested, Mr. Roper calls the attention of the president and congress to the absolute need for ascertaining the approximate number of the unemployed. This is a prerequisite to appropriations for this purpose and there is every reason to believe that Mr. Roosevelt will direct the taking of a census of the idle before he presents the supplement to his forthcoming budget.

There is a scientific method of learning about public opinion, but it's cheaper to spend an hour in a beauty parlor.

For a man with ten million followers, the Rev. Gerald K. Smith seems to have dropped out of sight rather quickly.

Mr. Masefield, the poet laureate is nothing if not discreet. The Great Royal Romance has not inspired him to take his pen in hand.

A luncheon orator tells his audience human nature has changed. If so, a precedent has been established after some thousands of years.

Let's see! Wasn't there an inspired political prophet some months ago who said that a chap named Lemke, whose name seems to be familiar, would capture so many states that the election of a president would be thrown into the hands of congress?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NERVES AFFECT YOUTHS

We are hardly as serene as our forefathers were. Our chidlren are growing up in a more jumpy, jittery environment than we did. Year by year the growing child and his family are exposed to more nervous stimulation. We are certainly moving faster on foot, in cars, railways and airliners. Even the most 'harmless" movie moves so fast that one is almost exhausted at trying to see the items as they disappear. So many appealing programs all at the same time on the radio to hear; so many new and fascinating articles and books to read, pictures to see, places to go; and while at home we may have the whole world on our ears. Hardly much serenity with the raucous radio competing with several vying voices growing higher and louder to be heard above the din. Then there's the helpless infant or the tot left with the maid (or mother) who will let the radio roar on full blast, willy-nilly, hour after hour from morning till night, so as to be heard from the kitchen and the farthest room.

Fortunately, some wise mothers are striving for serenity in their homes. They regulate the radio, rarely or never have it on when the family are together talking, especially at meals, and keep it off or turned low while the baby is awake. They do not permit romping and rough-house indoors; they have quiet periods during the day, and they themselves nap while the little child does. Moreover, they don't let themselves grow too weary. They choose to neglect many things about the home, if necessary, in order to relax.

Cultivate Low Voice.

They and the other adults cultivate low, gentle voices in the home. They learn to loll about now and then. They, or the dads, read to the little child and cultivate fireside reading to one another.

Although the school for years has seemed to be interested most in stimulating children, it is beginning to set the stage for more serenity. Accordingly, there are now in some schools brief rest periods when children relax. One may see them lying on a rug or blanket on the floor. Some of the more excitable children are assigned daily to periods of rest alone, just as others have special periods for remedial instruction in reading or arithmetic. Incident to a series of lectures before teachers and parents recently in Battle Creek, Mich., I saw this program for serenity at its best.

All Of Us

I'M GLAD I'M AMERICAN

I HAVE A FRIEND who is British. He was born in England, went to school there, did not come to the United States until he was a grown man. . . But until lately I had not paid much attention to his "Britishness". I suspect he was even thinking of himself as an American.

But the abdication of King Edward VIII pulled him back into line. Ever since the day the king of England gave up his position my friend's remarks have reflected the thoughts of a citizen of the British Empire and not the intensely interested thoughts of an American . . So yesterday I challenged him and said, "It seems to me you have been getting more and more British every day" . . He grinned and admitted it.

We did not fight about it. What reason did we have for that?

He is British because his family has been British for centuries. It would be amazing if he could pull up his roots entirely in eight or ten years. . . I'm American and my family has been here for about 250 years and I can complain all I want about things and still be American. But the only time I ever feel excessively American is when somebody begins to criticize America in a nasty and superior fashion. Then I blow up and feel like Old Glory waving in the breeze.

And I'm never ashamed of that "blow-up". I think it's right. I think we should feel like that, and we can't get away from it. Even H. G. Wells, who has written millions of words about internationalism, admits that he feels and thinks like an Englishman and wouldn't want to be anything but an Englishman . . I like my country, I like my state, I like my part of my state, I like my neighborhood and I like the feeling that I have roots that go deep into one rich corner of this earth.

I use the word "like", but I am conscious that I would have written "love" if I were not an American and therefore reluctant to come right out in print and confess my deepest feelings.

And I think everybody ought to feel as I do about my corner of the world. It makes living richer and dearer to feel that way about anything. I'm glad I do.

Words of Wisdom

PROFIT AND LOSS

They tell a story about a country lad who went to New York and tried for a job on the police force.

One of the questions was: "A man buys an article for $12.25 and sells it for $9.75; does he gain or lose on the transaction?"

After pondering over the question, our rural friend finally answered in this way: "He gains on the cents, but loses on the dollars."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:44; sun rises tomorrow 7:22.

Easier divorce laws are being planned in Nevada. Many causes can be presented for a divorce in that state even now, but cruelty and barbareous treatment are not mentioned. The lawyers there claim the number of divorces has fallen off during 1936 and they want more business.

Some of us who start out to be a three-ring circus end up a sideshow. Life is like that.

Judging from what we hear and see there must have been several Santa Clauses this year.

We read about a father who was surprised when triplets were born in his family. Lots of men are dumbfounded when even twins are born in their homes.

You can't sell a philosopher anything. He knows a shiny new car will look just like his old one when it gets equally dirty.

We would like to see a picture of that Clark Gable when he is not kissing some peach. That's the only thing we envy him for.

It it is true that the government debt has risen to the tune of many billions of dollars, it will probably have to be played by note.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

It is reported that John D. Rockefeller at last has made a real bet. He has waged $5 that he will live to be 100 years old. But most of us see the joker in that. If John wins, he collects. If he loses, he won't be here to pay the bet.

Must be a strain of Scotch there somewhere.

Air conditioning solves every problem except that of keeping a skinny man warm while his fat wife is "suffocating."

A lady in California ate ten three pound chickens and fifteen pounds of dressing at one meal. O, wham de doodle wham.

We received quite a few Christmas cards written with red ink. Does this mean a lot of people are using up the red ink because they are getting out of the red and the depression.

FOR DOG LOVERS

"Well, here is a dog story that can't be beat: My friend Smith had a most excellent retriever. One night Smith's house caught fire. All was instant confusion. Old Smith and wife flew for the children and bundled out with them in quick order. Alas, one of them had been left behind! But up jumped the dog, rushed into the house, and soon reappeared with the missing child. Everyone was saved; but Rover dashed through the flames again. What did the dog want? No one knew. Presently the noble animal reappeared, scorched and burned, with—what do you think?"

"Get it up," cried the eager listeners.

"With the fire-insurance policy, wrapped in a damp towel, gentlemen!"

Knowing your country saves you a lot of emotional strain during an election. You don't get wrought up over a set-up.

There is something wrong in this country when more than 600 people are killed on the highways on Christmas day, to say nothing about the hundreds injured. Some day there will have to be something done about this. Keeping some birds from driving cars would be a good thing.

When some birds run for public office they like to think the people need them. That keeps it from being unanimous.

You can tell the age of a doctor by his degree of exasperation when girls wearing five ounces of rayon fail to get pneumonia.

A Los Angeles actress did not ask for a divorce before Christmas for fear her husband would not give her the usual Christmas gift. All she has against him is that he stays away from home without telling her where he has been. Lots of men don't tell their wives where they have been for fear of getting murdered.

Last night he made his first speech to himself in front of a mirror. Of course the applause was terrific.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A man went into a real estate office bent upon selling his home He left a description of the place, terms were agreed upon and things were all set for the big transaction The real estate man fixed up his newspaper copy and inserted it in the newspaper with a greedy look. That evening at his home the telephone rang.

"I'm the fellow who called on you today anxious to sell my house, but I've changed my mind."

"Really?" interrogated the real estate man. "Aren't you going to sell it?"

"No," came the answer, "when we read your description of it in the paper tonight, we decided it is just the place we are looking for."

No one ever attempts to organize the farmers of America into a labor union. They are the hardest workers of them all and hours don't mean a thing to them when work is to be done. Their work feeds the cities at a reasonable and often a ridiculous low cost.

THE CURATE'S EGG

Don Marquis, the well-known humorist of the New York Evening Sun, says that his favorite story is that of the curate's egg. The curate was breakfasting with the rector and the latter noticed that his guest was not attacking his egg with vigor. "Isn't your egg good?" asked the rector.

"Oh, yes, sir," said the curate eagerly, anxious not to offend his superior in the church. "Parts of it, sir, seem quite good."

Good Taste

DEAR Miss Markel—I have a rather bad memory for names, which I am trying hard to overcome. But what should I do when addressed by someone whose name and face are a complete surprise to me? Should I tell a white lie or admit my faulty memory when such a person says: "You don't remember me?" I am, of course referring to someone whom I met at a friend's house and whom I should remember. DUMB BELLE.

Answer—If you can make yourself sound convincing, say: "Yes I do remember you." And as your conversation proceeds, you will, no doubt, find a clue to the mysterious person's identity.

If you cannot ascertain her name in this manner, ask someone at your first opportunity, to give you some enlightenment.

It is far from flattering to be told: "I'm sorry but I don't remember you." A clever lie is justified here, if anyw "e.

Dear Miss Markel—I have recently married. My maiden name was "Helen Clare Smith," my married name is "Jones." Should my signature now be "Helen C. Jones" or "Helen S. Jones"? H. C. or S. J.

Answer—It may be either, according to your own preference. However, most married women use the initial of their maiden surname as their middle initial.

JUST SEED

The seed business is a great enterprise, whether the seed be for flowers that bloom in the Spring or for corn to be harvested in the Fall.

Did you ever hear of "Grama?" I think not, but it is the most valuable seed in the Nation, if you ask a stock raiser in Arizona. It has been found most valuable in revegitating Southwestern ranges.

The nursery department of the Soil Conservation Service in Arizona demands 78,000 pounds of the seed. It is so light that when a one hundred pound bag is stuffed full and pressed down with "Grama" seed, the bag will weigh only twenty-five pounds.

A chap named Howard Benham is the one who has been given the difficult order. He lives up at Prescott 7000 feet in the air and is a representative of the nursery department of the S. C. S. and although snow covers much of the territory where the "Grama" grows, Benham and his staff are grimly resolved to deliver the required seed in time for spring sowing.

In the Prescott area Benham recently collected 500 pounds of acorns, also quantities of black walnuts and of oak and box elder seed, for shipment to regional headquarters in Albuerque.

THE OLD YEAR

He will not live the night through,
The old year
Lies on his death-bed, pale and tired and worn.
He will not wake to greet us with the morn.
Upon the stroke of twelve there will appear
Another who will take his station
here
To bear the self-same burdens he has borne,
Welcomed as he was once with
bell and horn,
And in twelve months, like him, to disappear.

Nothing will change unless mankind shall change.
The same four seasons, winter time and spring,
The summer flowers and autumn's harvesting
Will grace the world. No love, no passion strange
Shall jolt us from the habits that we know
Unless men world-wide over will it so.

Young Doomed Slayer Gives Advice Today

Jacob Gable, 22, Awaiting Death In Chair Monday, Says, "Crime Does Not Pay"

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 31.—Four days before he is scheduled to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary, Jacob Gable, 22-year-old convicted slayer of Mrs. Harriet Goltstein, today warned young men and women "that crime does not pay."

Still exhibiting the cool, calm and almost cheerful demeanor that has marked his behavior since his arrest, the confessed Johnstown slayer voiced his warning a few hours before he was scheduled to be transferred from the Cambria county jail to the death house.

Crime Does Not Pay

"I do not want to preach a sermon to young men and women," he said, "but crime does not pay.

"I used to think it was all right to do wrong. I realize now, however, that this is the wrong idea, because in the end you always get caught and that is why I am here today, facing death in the electric chair.

"My advice to all young men and women is to tread the straight and narrow path. If I have done nothing else good in my life, I hope my career will serve as a perfect example to other young people who think they can do wrong and get away with it.

"If I had my life to live over, I certainly would obey my mother and father and would keep off the streets late at night.

According to police Gable brutally murdered the aged woman in June of last year. In his own testimony, he admitted he beat the woman successively with a pewter cream pitcher, a marble door stop and an iron kettle. Failing to silence her, he then gagged her and hit her with an electric iron, police claimed. Later he stabbed her three times, they said.

Throws Lye In Eyes Of One Of Robbers And He May Lose Sight Of Eyes

(Internaitonal News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 31.—Hospital physicians today were attempting to save the eye sight of a man, who, with two companions, allegedly attempted to loot the home of Mrs. Sarah Kenderson, 55, of West Masontown.

When attacked by the men, Mrs. Kenderson said, she threw powdered lye in their faces. Assault and battery charges were instituted against the men, said by police to be Louis Goray, 50, his brother, Louis, and another brother, Elmer, in the United States army service at Fort Hoyle, Md. The latter pair were freed under $500 bail.

May Make Corporation Taxes Self-Assessing

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—Administration leaders, it was learned today, will probably ask the 1937 general assembly to revolutionize the present method of collecting all corporation taxes by making them self-assessing.

This, it was pointed out, would not necessarily effect any economies in the administration end of collecting the taxes but would keep the funds pouring into the state treasury at a constant, and speedy rate.

The three present taxes that would be affected by amendments, a treasury official told International News Service, were the manufacturers' and bank capital stock taxes, all of which yield some $50,000,000 annually.

Under the present set-up, the taxpayer first files a return which is then investigated by the revenue department. Following this a bill is sent to the tax-payer, who in turn, sends the required amount.

With thousands of such returns handled and with the numerous steps involved in the transaction, final returns are delayed by four months at times, it was pointed out.

All this would be changed with a self- assessing feature, the official explained. Under the new set-up, the taxpayer would be his own tax collector; that is, he would figure out what his bill to the commonwealth was and send his check when the return is filed. Investigations would come afterwards.

This, it was emphasized, would speed up collectons considerably, at times saving the commonwealth from "financial embarrassment". Federal taxes are collected by this method, as well as the commonwealth's present corporate net income tax.

Adjustments are made after the initial tax payment has been made under the self-assessing plan. If the taxpayer has overpaid his tax, a refund is in order. If his payment appears too low, an additional assessment is levied, which the taxpayer may or may not oppose.

Informal chat and musical selections filled in during other hours. Later, Mrs. Logan invited the 25 guests to the dining room where spread before them was a dainty repast. After partaking of the refreshments, the guests resumed the playing of games. Miss Helen Fray assisted the hostess in serving luncheon.

New Year's Day

What does the New Year bring?
Merely the record page;
Each day's increasing age;
The clock's sure dialing.

The days shall come and go,
Nor all man's boasted power
Can shorten one sad hour;
Change joy's swift step to slow.

With what is lost or earned,
What men count good and ill,
What deeds the records fill
The year is not concerned.

All that the New Year brings
Is time's allotted space
Wherein the human race
Works, plays, laughs, grieves and sings.

These, then, the boons I ask:
The happiness men find,
The pride and peace of mind
Which end each well-done task.

Employes Will Fight C. I. O. Move

Representatives Of Carnegie-Illinois Plants Confer And Prepare Program

(Internaitonal News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—First concerted opposition from within was launched today against the organizing campaign of John L. Lewis's committee for industrial organization by employe representatives of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation plants in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown area.

Ending a two-day-meeting here called by Col. Fred W. Bohne, of McDonald, O., the representatives announced plans for a proposed counter-attack upon inroads allegedly made by the Lewis group and the steel workers organizing committee into the so-called "company unions" in the plants.

Thirty-two anti-Lewis representatives agreed, according to the group's publicity committee, to fight the CIO with two principal weapons, they were:

1. Publication of a weekly news letter "to inform the various plant bodies of the activities of sister plants."

3. Eight speakers to be appointed to visit plants as soon as possible to "uphold and defend the plan (of employe representation) against the onslaughts of all opponents."

A "steering committee" was named to outline a schedule for the visiting speakers.

Resolutions adopted by the meeting included charges the CIO "have made and are making malicious and erroneous attacks upon our plan of employe representation and the honesty and integrity of the employe representatives."

The elected delegates present also called upon employe representatives throughout the corporation to band together in defense of the "company union" plan, now under attack by the CIO and SWOC before the National Labor Relations board.

TROOP X-15 MEETS

Troop X-15 met in the basement of the First Christian church, Tuesday evening, December 29, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster James A. Bowman.

Following opening exercises, the three patrols went to their corners and decided on plans to aid in advancing the ranks of the scouts. When the troop returned to formation, Scoutmaster Bowman, decided that the first scout in the ranks, who became an Eagle scout, would receive a handsome award of money. An Eagle rank is the highest rank that may be attained by a scouter.

The playing of "Rush Ball" was then enjoyed by the boys, who were instructed in the rules of the game by Edward Schlosberg, assistant scoutmaster, who is now studying at Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Assistant Scoutmaster James Pherson also aided the scoutmaster in making the meeting a success. The meeting closed with Scout Tyndal sounding "Taps".

Much Street Improvement Work Here During Year

Several thoroughfares were paved and several resurfaced during 1936, according to statistics obtained at the office of City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, who has prepared plans and surveys for the paving of 20 additional thoroughfares in 1937.

The cost of the materials for the jobs, providing WPA labor is employed, is charged against abutting property owners, he stated.

Streets paved are Raymond street, between Oak street and Butler avenue; Chartes street, between Moravia and Morris streets; Englewood avenue, between Mercer street and Highland avenue; Leasure avenue between Wilmington avenue and Mercer street; Garfield avenue, between Wilmington avenue and Albert street, and Rural avenue between Neshannock avenue and Park avenue.

Resurfacing jobs were completed in Reis street, between Sha 7 street and Highland avenue; Wallace avenue, between Crawford Terrace and Highland avenue; Beaver street, between South and Race streets; Kurtz place between Grove and East Washington streets, and Mercer street between East Washington and South streets.

Crawford run was riprapped, and Martin street storm sewer built between Croton and Dewey avenues; a retaining wall along Water street was fixed to prevent flooding of downtown cellars, and the Croton avenue hill fence or stone wall completed. A stone parapet was built around the Sylvan Heights clubhouse porch, and Butler avenue extension stone wall completed.

The downspout survey of the city was completed by the WPA.

The task of painting street signs was also completed this year and the storm sewer in Sampson street replaced. It was necessary also to repave part of State street.

WPA labor was used on the street paving program but not on the resurfacing program, the workers on the latter jobs having been paid half their wages in cash and the remainder applied on their delinquent taxes, it was stated.

Another task which the street department did in 1936 was to ash streets and remove snow.

Goes To Virginia To Secure Permit To Join U. S. Army

According to Corporal George Trebesh, local recruiting officer for the United States Army, Frank W. Broaddus, who has been residing at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Manly Broaddus in Mahoningtown for the past several years, has successfully passed his entrance examinations for the U. S. Army. Before that time he made his home in Bagby, Va., which is still the home of his parents.

Broaddus applied for enlistment on December 12, and due to a rule of the government which requires the written and sworn consent of the parent before being eligible for enlistment, he was required to return to his home in Bagby to secure this consent

He returned to the local station Wednesday with the consent of his mother, Mrs. Nellie Broaddus and was sent to New York City on Wednesday, where he will secure a boat to Hawaii. He has enlisted in the coast artillery service for three years.

Old Paper Mill Machinery Being Removed As Junk

Old Machinery Wrecked By Blaze Is Being Blasted From Mountings

Workmen for the past several days have been removing all the old machinery and scrap cast iron from the old paper mill, along the Neshannock creek, which was razed by flames some time ago.

The machinery, has not been used for years was just standing in the building, was damaged beyond use by the fire. Because of this fact, and also to the fact that many large timbers have fallen about the machinery and make it difficult to remove, the workmen have been using dynamite to free the metal from its base.

The work is being done by a local wrecking company that has purchased the scrap, and when all of the machines have been removed the walls of the old building, which are still standing, will be pulled down.

Kiwanis Club Hears How Carols Started

Fitting Yule Message Given By W. T. Reed; Installation Nearing

The early joy and grief out of which beautiful Christmas carols sprung was described to New Castle Kiwanians on Wednesday.

In an enlightening luncheon talk, William T. Reed, the club's own music leader, told the histories of most of the better-known carols. Mr. Reed interrupted the history talk every now and then to sing portions of the yuletide songs. Judy Sypher accompanied him at the piano.

Before Mr. Reed spoke, Robert Cole and Donald Lusk, junior Kiwanians of the past three months, made their formal bows and were succeeded by Reid Shiner and Jack McConaghy.

The club approved plans for the presentation of the second edition of the Kiwanis Showboat, a play, "Headlines", to be produced the nights of January 21 and 22. Rehearsals start next week. Orville Potter will be the show's general chairman.

Kiwanis will not hold its regular Wednesday luncheon next week because on Tuesday evening, January 5, the New Castle members will join with Kiwanians of Ellwood City and Beaver Falls in a joint installation service in Ellwood City. On this evening Thomas L. Paden will succeed Harry L. Gormley to the presidency of New Castle's club.

Engineers To Hear Editor Speak Again

W. E. Irish of New York, editor of the Industrial Equipment News, will return to New Castle to speak again before the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engneers' society at the Eintracht hall, Taylor street, on January 20, society officers announced today.

Members of the society's executive council, it was also announced, will play the 1937 activities of the organization at a meeting in the home of former President Edward L. Davenport, 1004 Adams street, on Wednesday, January 6.

Our amateur guess is that the Tories will soon be wishing for a liberal king to keep the rabble quiet.

City Fire Loss Extremely Low

No Large Fires In New Castle During Year, Department Records Reveal

BIGGEST FIRE OUTSIDE CITY

New Castle's fire loss during the past year was one of the smallest in years, the records of the New Castle Department reveal, the total loss in the city being around $35,000.

The loss in fires, which occurred on the outskirts of the city, outside the city limits proper, for which the local firemen were summoned exceeded the loss in the city. The figures were slightly in excess of $35,000.

The biggest fire in the district was that at East New Castle which occurred during the early part of September, when the store and apartment building belonging to John C. Davis was totally destroyed with its contest. The loss here was $15,000.

Other large fires outside the city, which resulted in calls for help on the local department, was the home of Mrs. Myra Eckles, in Hickory township, with a loss of $5000, which occurred last April; a fire at the F. W. Byers farm in North Beaver township, during August, with a loss of $5,000; and the destruction of the Cappello home in Union township on Christmas eve, with a loss of $3,000.

The smallest loss occurred in June, when fire damage in the city amounted to but $127, while the heaviest loss was in January, amounting to $11,096.68. This included heavy damage to the home of Jack Conn, of Garfield avenue, and a fire in the Wright Building, on East Washington street.

There were 364 alarms received by the department during the year, the smallest number occurring during May when 19 were answered and the largest number being 49 in July, most of which were for grass fires.

NEW KIND OF IRONER NEEDS LESS FLOOR SPACE THAN A KITCHEN CHAIR

Thor FOLD-A-WAY

• You'll actually enjoy doing your ironing on this modern new ironer. It irons more beautifully than you can ever iron by hand —and in far less time—and all the while you are comfortably seated.

A kitchen chair makes room for a new THOR Fold-A-Way. Now the housewife with even limited space, can enjoy the ease and comfort of owning a THOR Ironer.

Look how easy it is to lift out the ironer from its gleaming white cabinet. Just open the door—lift up on the bottom of the roll and presto —it is all ready to do your ironing.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

To our friends and fellow townsmen . . . to our staff and to our banker . . . to the policeman on the beat, and to the man who keeps our show windows sparkling clean . . . to the letter carrier and the Mayor . . to the butcher, baker and the successor to the honorable trade of candlestick maker . . . to everybody, a glad farewell to 1936 with its puzzling perplexities, and a joyous, prosperous, bright 1937.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL ENGAGED

From Phoenix, Ariz., comes news of the betrothal of Pauline Raleigh Middleton, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Robert Middleton and the late Mr. Middleton, to Edward Huling Bringhurst, both popular members of the younger set in the western city. The wedding will take place in February.

The bride-elect is well known here where she was born and raised. She is a niece of Mrs. Sidney Johns of Garfield avenue, and a granddaughter of Frank Middleton of Court street and Frank J. Perry of Etna street. Since 1929, she has resided in Phoenix, where she has become widely acquainted.

Engagement news was revealed at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon at Camelback Inn where appointments in red and white blended attractively with the exotic background offered by the southwestern motif of the inn. Brilliant poinsettia candleholders held small white candles, and the place of each guest was marked by a red heart on which her name was inscribed in white ink.

At the direction of the hostess, Mrs. Arthur Middleton, mother of the bride-elect, the candles were ligthed and the place cards passed over the flame, bringing out the words "Polly and Ed—in February".

Miss Middleton completed her high school course at Phoenix, after having attended the first three years here. She was graduated from Phoenix Junior college where she was a member of Kappa Delta Nu sorority, and is now active in the affairs of the alumnae group, serving as social commissioner.

Mr. Bringhurst located in Phoenix in 1931, after his graduation from Vanderbilt university, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Beta Theta Pi fraternities. He also belonged to the Blue Pencil Writers' association. He is a graduate of Tilghman high school at Paducah, Ky., where his family is prominent in social and business affairs. He is secretary-treasurer of the Standard Insurance Company, Inc., being associated in business with his uncle, Harry F. Bringhurst.

Colonial Club

Colonial club members will hold their annual election of officers this evening when they meet in the home of Mrs. Pat Audino, Lyndal street.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS AT JUNIORS' PARTY

Sub-Junior Women's club had their Christmas party at the home of Vera McMichael Wednesday night. All the associate members were invited, as most of them were home from their various schools.

It had been decided to have a very informal party, and bridge was voted out. The games played were just absurd enough to be very amusing. The girls enjoyed leaving their dignity at home for a while. Ruth Schnebly and Betty Cole captured the prizes.

At a suitable time the guests were served dainty refreshments, Marian Bergland was the chairman of the committee that had complete charge of the party, and Vera McMichael and Ione Farver were her helpers.

DINNER EVENT FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

Mrs Nannie Hamilton entertained at a very lovely dinner party in her home at Plaingrove on Tuesday to honor her new son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowen whose marriage took place December 23.

The bride is the former Lois Hamilton, and the groom is a resident of Mercer R. D. 8. A delicious menu was served at 12 o'clock at a long table graced with a wedding cake and holiday attire. Afternoon hours were pleasantly informal.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. David Cosgrove, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowen (the groom's parents), Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson, Mrs. John Boyd and children, Mr and Mrs. Herbert Wallace, Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mrs. Hamilton and daughter Elizabeth, Harold Knauff, the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowen.

Family Dinner Held

Mrs. D. R. Bollard of Weigletown, entertained at a family dinner at her home recently, those being honored including her two sons, Edward G. Bollard, and David N. Bollard and their respective families. Mrs. G. S. Briggs of Ridgewood, N. J., and her niece, Mrs. E. T. Laying of Youngstown.

Mrs. Briggs, formely Lizzie Graves, was a native of New Castle but has lived in New Jersey since her marriage 46 years ago. Mrs. Laying, formerly Grace Kissinger, was a teacher in the New Castle schools for a number of years and is now teaching in the Stambaugh school in Youngstown.

LUNCHEON SUCCESS AT FIRST CHURCH

Upon entering the dining room at the First M. E. church Wednesday for the luncheon event sponsored by the Guild, the eighty some guests were attracted to festive decorations in red and green tones, prevailing holiday colors.

Each small table was differently from the other, some having candles for centerpieces, variously arranged, others poinsettias, still others pines and evergreens, and Christmas balls. About the big room, arranged advantageously, were pots of gorgeous red poinsettias intermingled with green palms.

Mrs. Vennor Bright was general chairman for the day which proved a notable success. Her committee included Mrs. E. C. Buzard, Mrs. Ira Campbell, Mrs. L. E. Burleson, Mrs. Ross Abbott, Mrs. J. W. Black, Mrs. Russell Brenner, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Mrs. Wendell Ball, Mrs. Wilbur Baer, Mrs. D. A. Carroll, Mrs. George Atkinson, Mrs. M. Bowden, Esther Jane Caven and Mrs. Harry Burgess.

Mrs. E. N. Baer asked the invocation, and at the opening of the afterluncheon period, devotionals were led by Mrs. John A. Butler. There was a brief business session in charge of the president, Mrs. Grace W. Crawford, followed by an exceptionally fine program, supervised by Misses Mildred Burleson and Margaret Preston.

A pageant was presented by pupils of Arthur McGill school entitled "The Littlest Shepherd". Marilou Haller read the prologue and the chorus was composed of Gene McIlvaine, Phyllis Burry, Frances Cook, Elma Fickle, Jean Proctor, Marjorie Pascoe, Mary Pascarella, Helen Peterson, Dulcie Culliford and Eileen Proctor.

"King of the East" was represented by Jack Probst; "King of the South," Kenneth Scheppele; "King of the North" King Bell. Shepherds were Phyllis Williams, John Quint and Harry Thompson.

Harry Showalter was "The Littlest Shepherd"; Donna Paris, "The Little Girl"; Jean Maxwell, "Mary"; Joseph Vogan, "Joseph".

All the children played their parts well, delighting the audience with the appropriate and timely entertainment.

Joe Vogan contributed a piano solo for the further enjoyment of the women, and Corrine Perry of Warren, O., who is visiting Mrs. Vennor Bright, gave a reading. The assembly was led in singing carols by Mrs. Vennor Bright with Joe Vogan at the piano.

So successful was yesterday's occasion that plans are already being made for a similar affair which will be held at the church on January 27. Mrs. W. H. Martin will be chairman.

A. I. M. CLASS AT MABELLE SCHUNKS'

Miss Mabelle Schunk was hostess Wednesday evening, to members of the A. I. M. class of the First Baptist church, when they met in her Winter avenue home for their regular monthly business session.

The honored guest of the evening was Miss Genevieve McCalmont, a member of the class who is attending Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn. She is now spending the vacation at her home on Park avenue.

As the affair was in the form of a Christmas party, an exchange of gifts was featured. Each member also received a Christmas gift from her "secret sister." Mrs. Mary Landis, teacher, was presented with a lovely gift from the entire class.

Games of various sorts were enjoyed and prizes for skillful play was captured by Twila Armstrong and Genevieve McCalmont. Later, when the guests were invited to the dining room for refreshments, they discovered a large white cotton Santa Claus holding the center position at the table. Santa was made by the hostess' mother, Mrs. R. Schunk, and she also served the refreshments, assisted by her daughter.

Q. A. C. Club

Mrs. Harry Pitnoff of Young St., was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the Q. A. C. club at her home. Bingo whiled away the hours, and attractive prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ross Bevan, Mrs. Merle Allen and Mrs. James Flynn.

After the serving of a delicious lunch by the hostess, plans were completed for their next meeting to take place Thursday January 14, with Mrs. William Murphy, on Whippo street.

SECTION TWO ELECTS OFFICERS AT CLARKE'S

Section Two members of the First Christian church held their annual Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Robert Clarke, Butler avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Promptly at 12 noon, Mrs. Clarke spread before those present, a most appetizing turkey dinner with all the trimmings. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. John Clarke, and Mrs. Eugene Johnson.

Following the dinner, a short business session was held at which time election of officers was held with the following results president, Mrs. R. C. Clarke; vice president, Mrs. G. R. Holbrock; secretary, Mrs. Geo. Dufford and treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Dufford.

An exchange of gifts featured the meeting. Two special guests, Mrs. Ruth Calvin and Miss Peggy Clarke were present. The next regular meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Clarke, Ray street, Wednesday afternoon, January 27.

CO-WORKERS SURPRISE NEWLYWEDS AT PARTY

A gala holiday party was held Wednesday evening in Orr's hall by workers on the Adult Education, recreation and National Youth Administration, as a surprise to their co-worker, Rees Flannery, and his bride of Christmas day.

Through a ruse on the part of Howard M. Wylie, NYA supervisor, the bridal couple was inveigled into going to the Recreation hall, where they were greeted by about fifty of Mr. Flannery's co-workers. The hall was artfully decorated in flowers, lamps, candles and holiday regalia through the skillful hands of Misses Esther Sibberson and Mary James of the education program.

Mrs. Vallera C. James, assistant project head of education, acted as mistress of ceremonies, and after the surprised couple had sufficiently recovered, a reception line was formed when all present greeted Mr. and Mrs. Flannery and Mrs. Agnes B. Howley, education project head, who stood in the receiving line with the newlyweds.

Francis DeSanctis was in charge of the program of the evening, which included a clever little playlet produced by Miss Eve Nicklin, with the members of her Young Italian Mothers' class taking the various roles. The playlet was a humorous one and produced much laughter among the guests. The next number on the program was a vocal solo by James Bowman, accompanied by Miss Beatrice Laconi. Mr. DeSanctis also sang two numbers, dedicating one of them "I Love You Truly", to Mr. and Mrs. Flannery.

A gift from the group was then presented with Mr. Wylie making the presentation speech, when a lovely radio was given the couple Mr. Flannery responded most graciously, after which cards and music were enjoyed until a late hour when a sumptuous menu of refreshments was served, with "Tippy" Richards and Mrs. Josephine Kison in charge.

Miss Mary Shannon was in charge of transportation for the group, and Patsy Fasano arranged the lighting and amplifier for the music.

MRS. FRED WETTICH ENTERTAINS CLUB

On Wednesday evening members of the Bridge at Eight club gathered at the home of Mrs. Fred Wettich in New Wilmington, where they spent a delightful evening.

Two tables of bridge claimed the attention of the group, with high score awards going to Olivia Jean Yoho and Laura Ramsey as tallies were added at the end of play. One special guest was present, Dorothy Cain.

At a later hour the small tables were re-arranged and a tempting lunch served by the hostess. Seasonal appointments were carried out in the decorations.

Olivia Jean Yoho invited the group to her home on Sheridan avenue for their next meeting on Tuesday, January 19.

H. H. 35 Club

At the conclusion of keen bridge competition Wednesday evening, in which members of the H. H. 35 participated in the home of Mrs. Lloyd McKinnon, on Graceland road, a lovely prize was awarded to Mrs. Frances Hitchins.

Mrs. Merritt Hogue, of Franklin, nee Ruth Lowery, of Forth Worth, Texas, was a special guest. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Margie and Betty.

On Wednesday, January 6, the next gathering will be held in the home of Mrs. Francis Mitchell, Graceland road.

B. N. W. Club

B. N. W. club associates were pleasingly received in the home of Mrs. W. R. Nickerson, Court street, Wednesday evening and they had as a special guest, Miss Margaret Diamond.

Bridge claimed attention, Mrs. Elmer Giering and Mrs. Arthur Gray receiving the prizes. In serving lunch at a later hour, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Gray. Seasonal tones prevailed.

On Wednesday, January 21, Mrs. Roy Smith, Huron avenue, will entertain.

HILLTOP CLUB GIRLS HAVE SEASONS PARTY

Two tables of contract bridge featured the meeting of Hilltop club members Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Elizabeth street, who entertained informally. Mrs. Gerald Book was winner of the honor score prize. Mrs. Ben Chambers of Ellwood City, who will be remembered as Jean Raney of this city, was among the participants.

An attractively appointed table claimed much attention at conclusion of play, where the group was later seated for the serving of lunch. A unique centerpiece of red and blue flowers was guarded by tapers to match, and individual favors marked the guests' places.

An exchange of gifts followed, in observance of the holiday season.

On Friday, January 22, the club will meet with Mrs. James Campbell, Fairfield avenue.

S. And C. Club

On Tuesday evening, the S. and C. club met in the home of Mrs. L. Ed. Parady on Liberty street, for their fifth annual Christmas dinner party. Co-hostesses who aided, were Mrs. Isabelle Ralston and Marge Hromyk, and festivities began at 6:30 o'clock.

Gifts were exchanged after partaking of a delicious turkey menu, and informal pastimes including dancing, filled in the balance of the evening.

On January 12, the group will meet with Marge Wilk, North Liberty street.

WATCH PARTY AT FEE HOME

Members of the P. F. F. club will welcome the New Year 1937 tonight at a watch party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fee, West Washington street.

Mrs. Fee's invitation was extended at a meeting of the club women on Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Gene Hill, on Walter street. The usual two table game of cards was enjoyed with prizes going to Miss Winona Hill, a visitor, and Mrs. Harry Buckley. Refreshments were served in attractive fashion, New Year ideas being furthered.

The next regular meeting is dated for Thursday, January 14, instead of the usual Friday, since it has been decided the earlier week night is the most convenient. Mrs. Louis Krueger, of Smithfield street will be hostess.

TUREEN LUNCHEON AT A. G. P. CLUB MEETING

Mrs. M. J. Tripp, Highland avenue, entertained members of the A. G. P. club in her home Wednesday afternoon. This was in the form of a tureen luncheon and was served promptly at 12 noon. Covers were laid for 10 about a beautifully decorated table, resplendent in its gay attire of Christmas decorations.

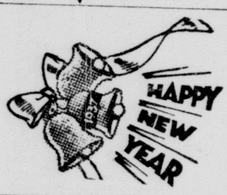

In serving the dinner, the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. L. Weitzel. During the afternoon hours, the playing of 500 was the main diversion and prizes were awarded to Mrs. James McWilliams and Mrs. Clyde Perrine. The latter was a special guest, as was also Mrs. E. L. Conover.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Robert Clarke, Butler avenue, on Wednesday, January 6.

Fatalities Are Fewer This Year Potter Reports

Traffic Accidents Claim Same Number Of People As Preceding Year

SEVENTEEN LESS CASES REPORTED

Fatalities during the past year were back nearer the average for the past decade, the records of Coroner Orville Potter reveal, 137 cases of violent or sudden death being reported against 154 in 1935.

Traffic accidents were identically the same as during the preceding year, 30 being reported for 1935 and 1936 against 34 in 1934.

There was just half the number of suicides last year that there were in 1935. Seven persons took their own lives while in 1935 there were 14 and in 1934 there were 19.

There were nine fewer deaths from heart attacks during the year, but three more deaths from apoplexy, drowning were two less, accidental falls five more, and hunting accidents two more, not a single hunting fatality having occurred in 1935, while this year there were two.

The complete records show 29 deaths from automobile accidents and one from motorcycles; seven deaths from accidental falls, six from accidental burns, 45 from heart attacks, 13 from apoplexy, two from acute alcoholism, one from exposure two from pneumonia, three from electric shock, one from suffocation, two from drowning, one from building collapsing, one from blood poisoning, one from train accident, and two from hunting. Seven persons committed suicide , and there were two homicides.

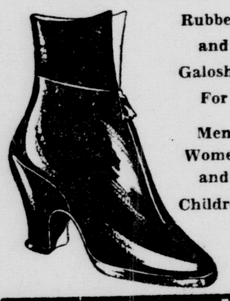

Schwerdt, South Australia farmer, established a new world's "sheaf-tossing" record at the Royal Show here. He tossed an 8-pound sheaf 50 feet—two feet farther than the previous record, set by his brother last year.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

FIRE DAMAGES VACANT HOUSE

Fire, Believed To Be Of Incendiary Origin, Discovered Early This Morning

Fire, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, damaged a vacant double frame house at 235 and 235½ South Cedar street at 4:25 o'clock this morning. A loss of around $700 was sustained.

When seventh ward firemen arrived on the scene they discovered the place afire in several places, and a second alarm was sounded at 4:30 from box 714, which brought No. 5 and B truck companies to the scene.

The fire was soon brought under control, but the departments remained at the scene until 6:30 before the last smouldering spark was out.

An investigation is being conducted today by city police and Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain. The house is owned by W. S. Reynolds.

Officers Meet On Wednesday

Reports Heard At Regular Meeting Of Teachers And Officers Of Bible School

On Wednesday evening, teachers and officers of the Madison Avenue Christian church Bible school gathered at the church for a meeting.

The superintendent, Robert Park, presided over the business session. Reports were heard from the various committees, including the committee in charge of the Christmas offering, which reported that the money has been sent to the Cleveland Christian orphanage.

The process of re-decorating the interior of the church is about completed, and will be finished and ready for services on Sunday.

No Watch Services In Ward Churches

Although many of the churches in New Castle are holding watch services this evening, there will be none in the local churches of the ward. Special New Year sermons will be delivered on Sunday from the pulpits by the local pastors.

LOCAL POST OFFICE CLOSED ON FRIDAY

The windows at the Mahoningtown post office will be closed all day Friday and there will be no city or rural mail deliveries. Mail will be received and dispatched as per holiday schedule.

NEW YEAR'S MAIL REPORTED HEAVY

Little Let-up In Greeting Cards This Week; Holiday Tomorrow

New Castle's New Year's Day mail this season has been weightier than for several years past, Postmaster Richard A. Steen reported today.

"Our mail load didn't fall off this year after the Christmas holidays," the postmaster explained, "like it has some years." "Right through this week we've handled a heavy volume of greeting cards."

The stamp cancellations, while far below the Christmas week highs, held up well for the post- Christmas week, Superintendent of Mails David B. Thomas reported that much of the work this week, known to postal workers as "the sweat" has been the direction of hundreds of incorrect addressed Christmas cards to local homes. "It's a job the public knows little about" he said.

At the post office today there was only a normal day's crowd obtaining money orders for their 1937 auto licence plates.

The post office will observe tomorrow as a holiday and Postmaster Steen announced this schedule:

No window service.
No city or rural delivery service.
Special delivery service all day.
Mails collected and dispatched as per holiday schedule.

Six Union Vets Left Alive Here

Remnants Of Glorious Host That Crushed The Rebellion In 1861-65

Recently the question was asked, how many veterans of the Civil war are still residents of Lawrence county? The answers varied from two to 20, but so far as can be ascertained, there are but six of the old vets left here.

The six are the remnants of nearly 3000 young men who left Lawrence county in 1861. Small in population, Lawrence furnished more than its share of troops to the Union cause. They were in the war from the start, at Bull Run, Chancellorsville, Shiloh, Vicksburg, Antietam, Gettysburg, all of the battles had Lawrence county men in them.

Today, so far as is known, the following six gentlemen are the only ones of that blue clad host that rushed to arms from this county: Edwin Ayers, Pulaski; D. M. Clark, commander Post 100, G. A. R., Mt. Jackson; M. Froberger, Meegan avenue; John Rodgers, Franklin avenue; Frank Hasson, Carson street, and Mr. Bibble, who is a guest in the Erie home for veterans.

Pyles Leaving For Florida Vacation

David S. Pyle looked forward today to a "good Florida vacation—and some fishing, too."

On Saturday, Mr. Pyle, with Mrs. Pyle and Mrs. Richard Bard, Cleveland, leaves to enjoy the balmy clime of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The retired general superintendent of the Carnegie-Illinois tin plants here said his doctors gave him a "clean bill of health." and he's anticipating his finest rest in years. His health has improved considerably since he led the Community Chest campaign last fall.

Pageant Attracts Crowd At Church

Over 400 See Pageant Presented Wednesday In Third U. P. Church

Over 400 people gathered at the Third U. P. church on the east side Wednesday evening and enjoyed the annual Christmas entertainment sponsored by members of the Sunday school.

A pageant entitled "The Nativity" featured, and was well executed. It portrayed in four scenes outstanding truths at the time of Jesus' birthday, as follows:

Scene I—The Temple.
Scene II—The Annunciation.
Scene III—The Shepherds in the Field.
Scene IV—The Nativity.

Cast of characters:
Reader, Reba Sines.
Mary, Charlene Bates.
Joseph, Bill Morgan.
The angel, Sara Louise Theophilus.
Zacharias, Gilbert Colnot, Jr.
Shepherds: 1, Jackie McKibben; 2, Donald Michaels; 3, Glen Caruthers; 4, Fred McConnell; 5, Billy McClelland; 6, Bernard Hook.
Wise men: 1, Albert Theophilus; 2, Tommy O'Neill; 3, Eugene Lutz.

The order of program:
Recitation, Tapers Tall, Frances Daugherty.
Pageant, The Nativity.
Piano duet, selected, Masters Jones and Dean.
Recitation, My New Dog, Bill Jenkins.
Vocal solo, selected, George Kyle.
Music by Girls' chorus with Elizabeth Eakin accompanist and Mrs D. C. Brown coach.

Committee in charge included Mrs. Clair Lutz, Mrs. Margaret Moore, Miss Margaret Sankey, Mrs. Plummer Gibson and Miss Elma Badger, the latter having complete charge of the costumes, which were decidedly clever and artistic.

Arrest Motorists In Mercer Boro

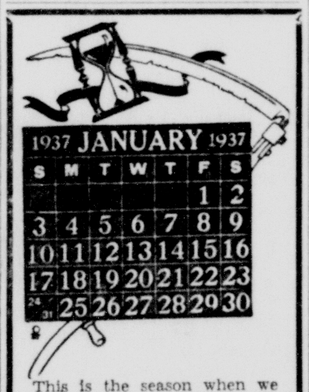

Speeding Charges Are Preferred Against Drivers By Police

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Dec. 31.—A dozen have been arrested and are called for hearing before Justice Thomas McClain, Jr., as result of the activities of the state motor police in breaking up the speeding in the borough on South Erie street which is the connecting link with the much-traveled Perry Highway.

A speed trap instituted by the officers caught 12 in two days driving in excess of the allowed speed of 35 miles per hour. In the townships the officers must use their motor cycles or automobiles registering the speed with a standard speedometer.

Speeding on this highway has been protested for years by residents along the right-of-way. It is hoped the officers will break up the practice.

This is the season when we regret, a little, the passing of old customs. We'd like, just for today, to go back to the days when it was customary to keep open house on New Year's Day, just so we could be sure of seeing each and every one of our customers and friends and add a hearty handclasp to the greeting we print here, "HAPPY NEW YEAR!"

Building Operations Increase In Year

Building operations here increased during 1936—surpassing operations of 1935, according to Neil Williams, who is in charge of records at the city engineer's office.

The estimated cost of building this year was announced as $183,780.

One home and a church accounted for about $50,000 of the foregoing amount.

The number of permits to build for the first 11 months and 29 days totalled 187, according to Williams.

The building operations here early next year will be augmented considerably in this vicinity by the erection of a $2,800,000, Pennsylvania Power company plant.

Tax Collections Better In 1936

"Tax collections here during 1936 exceeded the collection of 1935," C. C. McKibben, city treasurer, replied in answer to a question concerning the collection. McKibben said he could give no definite figures until the books for this year are closed.

Perry Highway Celebration Set For January 6

Celebrating the opening of the new Perry highway which will be observed on Wednesday, January 6, 1937, a dinner will be held at the "Pines" at six o'clock. An invitation has been extended to Fred L. Rentz, president of The News to attend the dinner.

The opening ceremonies will take place at Zelienople on the same day at three o'clock. The improvements which have been completed on the Perry highway have shortened the route to Pittsburgh, removed a number of hazardous curves and reduced the running time to Pittsburgh.

Alliance Church Planning Service

A watchnight service opening at 9 o'clock is planned for tonight by the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Pearson street. It will be a praise and prayer service. Short talks will be made by Harold Boon, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Boon, who is home from Houghton College, New York State, for the holidays, and by Rev. James Wagner, of Hempstead, Long Island, son-in-law of the pastor.

It Will Be A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Four years ago when prosperity was a snare and a delusion the word was going 'round that it was just around the corner. In '34 and '35 recovery had become a hope and a promise and everybody cheered. Today as '36 checks out for 1937, good times are a fact and there is very little noise; people are too busy to shout. Which means that at long last the big bust-up is over; the great depression is history.

This is a normal year. America is in better shape right now than at any time since 1926. So say the economists, business and the working man—and they ought to know. The future looks rosy—it's going to be a Happy New Year. We are really on our way.

PRESENT PROGRAMS

On Christmas eve an entertaining and interesting program was given at the Presbyterian church, as follows:

Song, "Silent Night", by the entire group.

Devotionals were led by Earl Stoughton, S. S. Supt.

Clarinet duet—Ralph Flack and Glenn Harlan.

Recitation, "Star of Bethlehem"—Marian McConnell.

Recitation, "Christmas Bells"—Mildred McConnell.

Recitation, "Would You?"—Elsie Dean.

Baritone solo, "Come All Ye Thankful"—Harold Johnson.

Vocal and instrumental music "O Little Town In Bethlehem".

Recitations by Marjorie Johnson, Doris and Greta McGaffic.

A solo was sung by Mr. Young and a farewell poem was given by Kenneth Dean. The church was beautifully decorated and a large Christmas tree, electrically lighted and decorated and gifts at its feet was an interesting sight for the children. After a delicious treat, wherein young and old were remembered. The Mens Bible class presented Rev. Bell and S. M. Kneram each with a Christmas gift.

The Sunday preceding Christmas the Baptist Sunday school gave a unique program in which three teachers sponsored a part for their own class. The teachers were the Misses Luella Moorhead and Lois Eakin and Mr. Willis Kneram. The choir sang several numbers.

There will be Watch night and prayer service at the Unity Baptist church Thursday evening beginning at 8 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Leonard Mathewson. There will be special vocal and instrumental music and Manning Hunt will give a talk.

Traffic Accidents Increase In City

Year's Record Of Reported Auto Accidents Show Many More In '36 Than '35

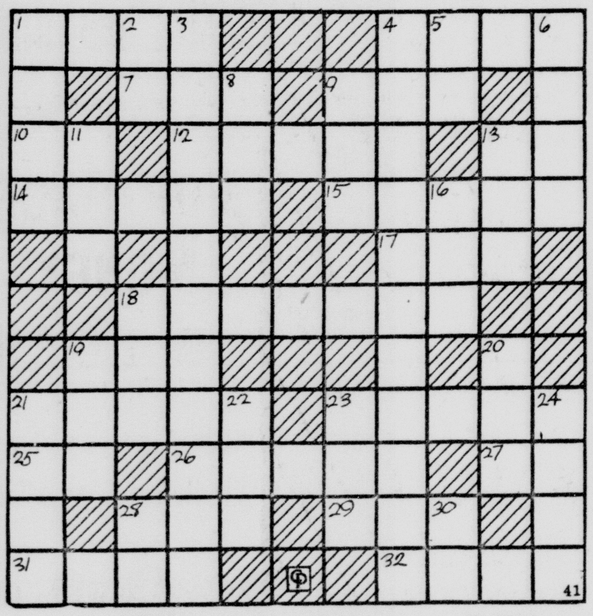

Automobile accidents in 1936 increased over 1935, according to police traffic bureau reports, 1,192 having been reported for the 11 months and 29 days period of December. For the entire twelve months of 1935, there were 882 accidents reported.

Indications are December of this year will hold high, 121 accidents already having been reported for the first 29 days of the month. In September of this year there were 121 accidents reported. In December, 1935, there were 118 accidents reported.

The accidents reported included everything from a bent fender to a fatality.

Autoists have become accustomed to reporting all motor car crashes to city police.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Interview With a Department Store Salesgirl:

Q. What do you learn about people, watching them shop?

A. Well, I should have learned one thing. In Alabama where I was born, people go to the store to buy something. Here in New York they don't do any such thing. They go—or at least the women do—because they liked to be shoved around and to ride up and down on escalators and to find out what the Christmas present from Aunt Susie actually cost.

Q. That's a rather harsh judgment, isn't it? A lot of merchandise was purchased over the past few weeks in the great store for which you work, and in the other stores too.

A. You bet your life there was. But if the customers who meant business had come in alone, we'd have sold more goods and saved half the time. Oh, yes, mister, I learned another thing: most men have no trouble making up their minds about what they want, but in the china department, where I work, I have actually seen a lady bite at a plate to see if it was genuine. But the man who hasn't decided what to get before he came in is worse than a woman. I had one gentleman who changed his mind eight times and made four telephone calls for advice before he decided on a set of six tumblers costing $1.64. And he had just bought a wrist watch for $150 in the jewelry department in ten minutes.

Q. But isn't it true that the women who just go to look are good advertising for the store and good potential customers?

A. I don't know, but I do know, suh, that the ones who come just to look always pick the rush hour. If it's before a holiday and the store is open until 9 a. m., these ladies who come just to shop, as they call it, always arrive by the thousands at 8:45.

Q. What is your greatest trial as a sales person?

A. My feet. My feet have grown since I got this job. I have bought two new pairs of shoes and each pair has been a size larger than the last. My only hope, suh, is that my feet get six feet square—then I won't mind standing on them all day long, maybe.

Q. May I ask why you came to New York in the first place?

A. I came to go on the stage. I wanted to be a dancer. Now I don't care. I think I'd like to be one of those lady taxi drivers, with a nice cushion to sit on all day long.

Q. Please forgive me, but I notice that you use "suh" a lot in your speech. I'm from the south myself but I never encountered quite as much of the "suh" before.

A. Oh, I didn't get that down home. You see, northerners expect me to use "suh" when they hear my southern accent, so I do it to please them. I've got so I use it with everybody now. Habit. I even use "we-all" once in a while, when the customer hails from New England or some other far-off Yankee place. They like it.

Q. What do you do on your day off?

A. I got to confess when you ask me that. I read your column for years before I came to New York and I know the kind of flip you like on the end of these little interviews. You want me to say that I go shopping on my day off, or read Schopenhauer or keep canaries. You can say that if you want. But it isn't true. I take a hot foot-bath, with a big box of salts dissolved in the tub, and then I read the advice to the lovelorn column—I haven't got a steady fellow now, so I like that column in my newspaper—and then I go to sleep and get ten hours. But you'll think that's too dull to print. Sure you will. Yes, suh!

Burn 17,000 Tons Of Garbage Here In Eleven Months

Almost 17,000 tons of garbage were collected and disposed of at the city incinerator during the first 11 months of this year, according to figures compiled by Ed. Umbright, in charge of collection and disposal of garbage here.

Since March, monthly collections have ranged from 1,583 tons to 2,693 tons—the latter mark having been high for the year, it having been set in May.

In addition to the collection and disposal of garbage tin cans have been "lifted" and disposed of at dumps.

Wolves Prepare For Coming Year

Announcement was made today that the Wolves club annual dinner-dance, scheduled for next Tuesday evening in The Castleton, has been postponed until further notice.

At a recent meeting, the committee decided to call off the social event due to the fact that Sam Ross, Edgewood avenue, a member of the organization, is confined in the New Castle hospital.

It was also announced that the Wolves will hold their first regular meeting of 1937 on next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Elks club, North Mill street. New officials will be installed into office.

The Gospel Of John

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

John 1:14—"The word became flesh, and dwelt among us."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Sunday school lesson for Jan. 3 is John 1:1-51, the subject being "The Son of God Becomes Man", and the Golden Text, John 1:14, "The Word became flesh, and dwelt among us." Apropos of this beginning of a three months' course in the Gospel of John we quote here the chapter on John from "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book", published by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, O.)

JOHN, "the disciple whom Jesus loved", was well qualified to give us a picture of Jesus such as no other could ever have painted. He sounds the deepest depths of the spiritual teachings of Jesus, and carries us to the loftiest heights of revealed truth.

The "Keynote" of John

The purpose he had in writing is quite clearly started in what is the keynote of his message, in chapter 20, verse 31: "These are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." True to this purpose, he traces Christ's genealogy not from Abraham, as Matthew does, nor back to Adam, as Luke does, but back to God in the enternities: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." So John's is the gospel of Christ's deity, as Luke's is the gospel of his humanity, and Matthew's of his kingship and Mark's of his servantship. He tells of the mystery of the incarnation of deity in humanity in the simple words, "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father), full of grace and truth".

Seven Great Miracles

To prove his case John summons as witness God the Father, Christ himself, his forerunner, his disciples, his miracles, the Old Testament scriptures and the Holy Spirit. He records seven great "signs" or miracles wrought by Christ before his death, of which only one had been mentioned by the "synoptists" Matthew, Mark and Luke. Likewise he records seven great claims of Jesus, most of which are closely associated with the miracles which served as proofs of his right to make such claims as none but God could presume to make. These claims in his own words are: "I am the Bread of Life"; "I am the Light of the world"; "I am the Door"; I am the Good Shepherd"; "I am the Resurrection and the Life"; "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life" and "I am the Vine, ye are the branches."

"My Lord and My God"

The religious leaders who failed or refused to see in him more than humanity regarded these claims as blasphemy, and brought about his crucifixion. Thus "the light shone in darkness and the darkness comprehended it not", but tried to extinguish it by the cross. But the light overcame the darkness and burst forth gloriously and victoriously in the resurrection, and many believed on him and badly confessed with "doubting Thomas", saying, "My Lord and my God". Because of the heights of heavenly mysteries into which John takes us, the early church selection the eagle to represent him in its art, as it had chosen the lion, the ox and the man to represent Matthew, Mark and Luke. Those who read this gospel prayerfully will not wonder that one of the greatest leaders the church has ever had has called John "the master evangelist and his gospel the one true, tenderest, chief gospel, a commentary and exposition of the whole Bible."

AROUND CITY HALL

During a meeting of council yesterday afternoon at the city building it was decided to change the title of Miss Sarah Boyles who has been city stenographer. It was pointed out that during the last several years practically all her work has been caring for delinquent taxes. Her title will be changed to chief clerk, city solicitor's office and Miss Theresa Maher, will be given the title as assisbtant clerk with a slight raise of salary. This latter was decided upon because she has been paid by the day. When other city hall clerks are off duty on holidays, they are paid, but Miss Maher has not been paid because she was hired at $2.20 per day. Her salary will be fixed at $65.00 a month, it was reported.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath has not yet decided whether or not to fill the position of Miss Marjorie Davies, a clerk in the police department whom will be married next month.

Casa Savoia society members will hold their monthly meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Casa Savoia hall, 923 South Mill street.

Two Members Of One Family Assigned To Hospital Corps

From all indications it appear that the members of the Ricke family of 708 West Clayton stree are destined to become members o the United States Navy hospita corps.

Richard W. Ricker is now home on a 16-day leave, having successfully passed a course of training a Norfolk, Va., and received instructions to report to the Hospital Corps School in San Diego at the end o his leave. This is the newest hospital in the navy and it is quite an honor to be sent to this branch, as the exam for entrance is rather stiff.

His brother Edward Ricker, enlisted in the navy service in July, 1934 and is now stationed in the Naval Hospital at Boston. He is a graduate of the Hospital Corps school at Norfolk.

Over 360 Cases Of Contagion Here During Past Year

There were approximately 360 cases of contagious illness reported for the first 11 months and 29 days of December of 1936, according to a study of statistics at the city health office, it was learned today.

Of this number there were only three cases of typhoid fever and five cases of diphtheria.

Smallpox has become a disease of the past, according to New Castle health department.

Rain Falling On Coast, Bowl Game Spirit Dampened

Pitt Panthers Expected To Be Best Team On Soggy Field Friday

Odds Favor Washington Huskies; Neither Team Has Won Bowl Battle

By WALLACE X. RAWLES
International News Service Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—Southern California was a moist mecca for sports fans this New Year's eve.

Rain has been falling steadily. Storm clouds continue to darken the horizon over Pasadena where 88,000 seats have been sold for the annual Rose Bowl game.

The odds on the football machine of the University of Washington, beaten by Minnesota this season, to defeat the University of Pittsburgh, beaten by Duquesne and tied by frisky Fordham, dropped from 10 to 6 to 10 to 9. Pittsburgh arrived in Pasadena yesterday from its San Bernardino training camp.

Panthers Good "Mudders"

In the mud, the "experts" reasoned, Pitt's power would enable them to give the Washingtons a closer contest than if the game were played on a fast field.

Memories of the Rose Bowl game January 1, 1934, arose today as veteran sports writers recalled what Columbia, of the City of New York, did to Stanford on a gridiron on which Noah's ark would have been at home.

On a flooded gridiron Columbia beat Stanford, 7-0.

Picks Washington

As the rains fell, fans wondered if the "unusual" moisture spelled an ill omen for the Washington team chosen by the Pacific coast conference to uphold the prestige of the West, and which in turn so bravely invited Pittsburgh to represent the East.

George Torres Davis, the dean of Los Angeles football experts, stuck to his guns and calmly predicted the following outcome for the first game of 1937:

Washington 13.
Pittsburgh 7.

Depend On Golberg

Pittsburgh was expected to base its principal hope for victory upon a running attack centered upon Marshall Goldberg. Washington is said to have a greater variety of plays including many of the wide-open style with many lateral passes.

Washington was handicapped by the loss through injury of its alternate fullback, Al Cruver, while Pittsburgh backers were cheered by the report Bobby LaRue, injured halfback, had made a miraculous recovery.

No Bowl Victories

Neither Pitt nor Washington ever has won a Rose Bowl game. Washington has been tied by Navy, 14-14, and beaten by Alabama 20-19.

Pittsburgh's record:

1928—Stanford 7; Pitt 6.
1930—U. of Southern California 47; Pitt 14.
1933—U. of Southern California 35; Pitt 0.

Glenn Morris of Denver, Olympic deacthlon champion, won James E. Sullivan trophy as year's outstanding amateur athlete in close vote over Jesse Owens.

Coming year to be one of greatest in history of amateur athletics, according to Jeremiah T. Mahoney, president of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Helen Wills Moody undecided whether to compete in coming tennis tournaments, she declared in interview.

Crowd of more than 17,000 saw Stanford basketball team snap Long Island University winning streak of 43 games by 45 to 31 victory at New York.

Attendance of more than quarter million football fans at six New Year's Day games expected to be irrefutable answer against arguments against post-season games.

New Castle Rifle Club Trips Niles

New Castle Club Will Have Practice Shoot At Range Friday

New Castle Rifle Club took one more step nearer the first-half championship in the Penn-Ohio Rifle league by upsetting the strong Nile, O., team 952 to 944 at the Cathedral range. If the New Castle men defeat the Youngstown team on January 15th, it will mean a tie for the first place in the league.

The results of the match—Niles-Morton 189, John 185, Corbett 187, Potter 133, Basket 195—total 944.

New Castle Club—J. Moore 191, D. Pugh 192, Hunter 191, Miller 189, Cramer 189—total 952.

Other scores—McKibben 186, Dean 184, Hill 183, Houck 182, Morrow 181, Thomas 179, Hinkson 171, Black 170, Watson 177, Cooper 180, Hockenberry 180, McBride 174, E. Crawford 180, McKeown 180, Waddington 176, Ziegler 164, Spiers 130, Welsh 174.

It was announced by President Leo W. Hill today that the New Castle club will stage a practice shoot at the range on Friday night, New Year's Day and that all members are urged to attend.

Keystones Will Play In Valley

Tonight Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto will take his strong Keystone A. C. basketball team to Beaver Falls, Pa., to meet the Veterans of Foreign Wars team, formerly the Purple Hearts. All of the Keys are asked to meet at the club not later than 6:15 o'clock.

Coach Venditto has stressed the fact that the valley team will have such well known stars as Price, Sterling, DiCiccio, Marconda and perhaps Lou Veltri, former Beaver Falls high stars, in the lineup, and will be one of the toughest opponents of the year for the Keys.

House And Indus Games Saturday

Three games will be played in the House-Indus league at the "Y" this coming Saturday night. The first game will start at 8 o'clock and will have the House-Seniors against the Carnegie-Illionis Steel company team.

In the second game Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto will send his league leading Keystone A. C. team into action with the Universal Pottery AA team.

The third game will find Coach Bauman sending his fast Gerson quintet into battle with the Johnson Bronze AA team.

Epworth, Baptists, Third U. P. Win In City Church Loop

Defeat St. Pauls, Tifereth Israels, Central Christians In Church League

Epworth M. E. topped the St. Paul's team last night in a fast battle in the Church league at the "Y" 22 to 18, with Kennedy and Nahas the big scorers for the victors, with five points apiece. Lang was the best in the lineup of the St. Pauls.

In the second game the Tifereth Israel team was nosed out 21 to 20 by a hard-fighting Third U. P. team, with Kennedy topping all of the scorers with eight points. In the third game the First Baptists led by the Brest brothers, hung up a sizzling 34 to 28 victory over the Central Christians. Baldwin had 12 points for the losers while Bobbie Brest had a like number for the winners.

Local Quintets Trounce Butler

In exciting matches played at Phalanx floor, Butler, New Castle WPA teachers and students were victorious in basketball and volley ball.

The local WPA student quintet romped off the hardwood with a startling 21-18 triumph, trimming the Butler WPA five. Gennock, Colello and Zingaro featured for the locals. Lawrence County WPA teachers walloped the Butler "profs", 58-33. In volley ball matches the New Castle team captured two straight games.

Football Season One Of "Upsets"

Walter R. Okeson, Talks About "Upsets" And How Rules Were Better Understood

Taking It All In All Year Of 1936 Was Great One As Far As Football Was Concerned

By WALTER R. OKESON
Chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Rules Committee.
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—To me the most striking features of football during 1936 were the uniform development of the attack on every front and the great number of upsets which occurred nearly every week.

In connection with the former phase of the game, forward passing was strikingly better in its execution, the running attack showed great improvement both in deception and power, and lateral passing ceased to be such a hit and miss affair and was used much more intelligently and effectively.

Season Of Upsets

As for the so-called upsets, unbeaten and united teams virtually vanished—this adding immensely to the game's appeal from week to week and helping to bring out the great throngs in evidence everywhere. The spectators soon came to regard nearly every game as a possibility for dramatics by the under dog and response was general through a remarkably great season.

The spectacular comeback of Notre Dame from the crushing loss to Pittsburgh; the breaking of Minnesota's long winning streak by Northwestern; brilliant records compiled by Marquette, Duquesne, Louisiana State and Santa Clara, to mention only four, are a scant few of the innumerable factors which heightened national interest.

Rules Understood

While there was some bickering over the rules, as a whole they apparently were better understood last season than in any previous year. There were very few misinterpretations by officials in college games, and reports to me from every part of the country state that both the rules and the officiating were very satisfactory.

Of course, neither the rules nor the officiating will ever approach perfection, but it is hoped some improvement can be made each year, without making too many or too drastic changes.

Particularly gratifying last season was a further decrease in fatalities and injuries, although the number of men and boys playing football was greater than ever before.

Sportsmanship

Also there was a high average of sportsmanship on the part of the players and coaches, which added to the enjoyment of the spectators who in turn did their part by discouraging drinking and rowdyism in the stands and on the field after the game.

In short, last season was one of the greatest football has ever enjoyed from every standpoint and we hold high hopes for 1937.

The new year scarcely can be more colorful than 1936, but if there is not too much tinkering with the rules we can depend upon the coaches showing us an even better brand of football than was exhibited during the past season.

I am certain that much of the improvement in play last season was due to the rules committee having given the coaches and players a "breathing spell" for the past several years.

Grid Fatalities Total 28 During Season Of 1936

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—A total of 28 football fatalities, one less than in 1935, were reported last season, Professor Floyd R. Eastwood of New York university told the Football Coaches association here today.

In this sixth annual survey conducted by Professor Eastwood figures showed a higher death increase in high school football than among the colleges, 2.2 per hundred thousand players for high schools as against 1.5 for colleges.

Only one death resulted from college football this year, compared to three in 1935 and eight in 1931. Professor Eastwood said. Fourteen high school players died from football injuires in each of the past two years, and sandlot football deaths jumped to 11 this year.

The survey revealed. Professor Eastwood said, that most injuries occur early in the season and early or late in the game, the latter indicating that over-zealousness and fatigue are contributing factors that head injuries cause most of the fatalities and that backfield men are most frequently injured.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

New York Giants now own the Albany club of the International league, the purchase price having been $50,000. The negotiations, under way for some time, were completed yesterday by Joe Cambria of Albany, Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league, and President Horace Stoneham of the Giants. The club, Stoneham stated at New York, will be moved to Jersey City and a new corporation set up to manage its affairs at once. Travis Jackson, veteran Giant infielder and field captain, will be offered the managerial berth.

Don McNeil of Oklahoma City and Monrey Lewis of Texarkana, Tex., top seeded players, showed the way into the quarter finals of the national juniors indoor tennis championships yesterday at New York. McNeil, seeded No. 1, advanced at the expense of Henry M. Daniels, ninth ranking player from New York. Lewis, ranked only a notch below McNeil, eliminated Louis F. Valentine of New York.

Babe Risko, Syracuse, former middleweight champion, who dropped his crown to Freddie Steele of Tacoma, Wash., will receive a chance to win back his title when he meets Steele in a return go, scheduled for 15 rounds at New York, January 22. Announcement of the coming scrap was made by James Johnston, boxing director of Madison Square Garden, at New York today.

According to the belief of New Zealand aborigines, the tides are occasioned by a huge ocean monster dwelling deep down in the seas, breathing regularly.

Winning Teams Not Essential

Many College Presidents Stress Discipline And Training Above Victories

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Presidents of American educational institutions are less interested in a winning football team than in the proper training of the player's mind and body by the coach, J. Wilder Tasker, Rutgers coach, told the football coaches association in a committee report.

"A consensus of the presidents indicates that football victories mean nothing compared with proper discipline and training," Tasker said. The poll was based on the question of a coach's obligation to his college or university.

Letters from these presidents were among the replies:

Dr. H. W. Doods, Princeton; Thomas Yates, University of Pennsylvania; W. M. Lewis, Lafayette; Tyler Dennett, Williams; C. C. Williams, Lehigh.

New Wilmington High Defeated By Alumni Five

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 31—New Wilmington high school basketball team went down to defeat last night, 36 to 34, in the Community hall here, with the Alumni team of New Wilmington the opponents. It required an extra period to decide the issue.

It was the second defeat for the Eagelsonmen in the pre season games, against five victories. The New Wilmington nigh team will not play again until January 8th, when they will appear at the Union high floor.

At the half last night the score was 17 to 16 in favor of the high school team. At the end of the regulation game it was 33-33. Minner sewed up the game for the Alumni with a field goal and foul. White led the scoring for the high school with 13 of the points.

In the preliminary game the high school girls defeated the Alumni girls, 35 to 19.

'Y' Swimmers Will Enter Butler Meet

New Castle's Y. M. C. A. expects to enter competition in the first annual swimming meet of boys of the association's Central West conference at Butler on Friday evening, January 8, William "Butch" Winter, member of the physical department staff at the "Y" here, announced today.

Winter said he believes at least 14 local "Y" swimmers will take part in the contest, and he has called a group of them to meet with him at the "Y" to discuss it on Monday, January 4 at 4:15 p. m. Helping him instruct the youths will be James Sotus.

Already Charles Matthews, James Craig, William Kastner and Frank Biondi have indicated they would participate, it was said.

Included in the events in which "Y" groups from all over the district will compete are the following:

For boys 13 and under: 20 yard free style, 60 yard free style, 20 yard backstroke, 20 yard breast stroke, 60 yard medley relay, 80 yard free style relay and diving.

For boys 16 and under: 40 yard free style, 100 yard free style, 60 yard backstroke, 60 yard breast stroke, 120 yard medley relay and 160 yard free style.

The contest will start at 8 in the evening.

Long Island U. Finally Loses

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Will Play On New Year's Night

Mt. Jackson High Will Play Preliminary At 7 O'clock With High Reserves

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" basketball team will end its pre-season schedule of floor games Friday night (New Year's Night) at George Washington Junior high floor by meeting the fast Salem, O., high quintet. The preliminary game at 7 o'clock will find the New Castle High Reserves meeting the Mt. Jackson high team.

The defeat by the Pitt Freshies still rankling in their minds the New Castle high boys will go out on the court tomorrow night to upset this visiting Ohio group. Little is known here of the strength of the Ohioans, but last year they were champions of their district.

Small At Guard

It is hoped that the injury to George "Pop" Adams is not as serious as first believed to be, and that the big tall blond boy can get back in the game Friday night or at least when the Section Three schedule commences.

Paul Small will be entrusted with the guard post left vacant by the injury to Adams. Covelli will play the other guard. Eddie Strausbaugh will do the center-jumping, with Nocera and Carey handling the forward posts.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not well pleased with the result of the Pitt game and promises a shakeup if the boys do not snap out of it Friday night in the S lem contest.

Reserves On Edge

The New Castle High Reserves after their victory over Shenango High the other night will be out to make it two straight by trying to upset the Mt. Jackson High applecart. Coach Gig Thomas has a fine team of reserves and they will fight hard for victory. Soach Spears will start his regular varsity lineup here. The first game gets under way exactly at 7 o'clock.

Keystone Juniors To Play Saturday

Coach Vinnie Gallagher will send his Keystone A. C. Juniors into action in their first league game Saturday at the "Y" in the Older Boys league with the Eagles as the opponents, it was announced. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The following will be members of the Keystone A. C. Juniors—and are asked by Coach Gallagher to report at 2:15 o'clock—V. Ross, R. Kellly, Covelli, Scungio, Perrone, F. Marcella, Gennock, Allison, Colello and Orelli.

The Keystone Midgets will be in the Class A league and will open next week. The following are on the midget team—V. Kelly, J. Ross, Blair, Johnstone, Nigro, Costa, Asclone and F. Toscano.

Glenn Morris Given Trophy

Pick Glenn Morris Decathlon Champion Over Jesse Owens For Award

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 31—It was a foregone conclusion that either Glenn Morris or Jesse Owens would receive the James E. Sullivan memorial trophy annually awarded to the one "who by his performance, example and influence as an amateur has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship."

Speculation became certainty today when a tribunal composed of outstanding leaders of sport in all parts of the country awarded the trophy to Morris by a vote of 1106 to 1013 for Owens.

Morris Is Amateur

The closeness of the vote and the fact that the committee in awarding the trophy stressed the point that Morris had "resisted all efforts to make him turn professional," indicate that Owens might have received the award had he not decided to turn pro after the Olympics.

It is true that Owens, a triple winner in the Olympics, received most of the applause for his great performances, but little, if any, fault can be found with the choice of a man who established himself as the world's greatest all-around athlete by breaking a world record in winning the Olympic Decathlon.

There was a big drop in the vote for these two down to Jack Medica, the 400 meter Olympic swimming champion, who got only 301 votes in third place.

Helen Jacobs Fourth

And some may be surprised to find Helen Jacobs, who was beaten by Alice Marble for the women's tennis title in fourth place with 204 votes, 30 votes ahead of Helen Stephens, the unbeaten Olympic sprinter and world record holder and 34 votes ahead of Tommy Hitchcock the world's greatest polo player.

It probably will be even more surprising to many to find Johnny Fischer, the amateur golf champion, tied at 155 votes for seventh place with Lt. Charles Leonard, who made a good showing in the Olympic pentathlon but won no title.

However, if golfers generally may raise an inquisitive eyebrow over having their representative place on a par with Leonard, what will track followers think of seeing Forrest Towns, the Olympic hurdle champion and world record holder, in ninth place beyond both of them and with only 123 votes.

Herman Frasch Whiton, a yachtsman, wound up the procession in tenth place with a meager 34 votes

Boy's League To Start Saturday At "Y" Floor

There will be two divisions of the boys' basketball league at the "Y" this year. The older boys' league will be known as class AA and the younger boys as class A.

The AA league will consist of the following teams: Keystone A. C. Juniors, Eagles, Boyles A. C., K. Pulaski Juniors, George Washington Alumni and West Side A. C. The A league will have the following teams: Keystone Midgets and the Washington Snappers. There are places open for two more teams in the A league. For places in the league call the "Y" and ask for Stanley Witherspoon.

The schedule for Saturday afternoon, the first game at 2:45 o'clock:

Keystone A. C. Juniors vs Eagles.

Boyles A. C. vs K. Pulaski Juniors, 3:30.

G. Washington Alumni vs West Side A. C., 4:15.

HOW TO BORROW
on your own signature.

No Endorsers. Quick Service.

Only Company in City Not Requiring A Wage Assignment.

1. Single persons or married couples may borrow on their signatures only, or furniture, or auto if they can make small monthly payments. For example: $15.00 first month decreasing each month to $10.30 last month repays a $200 loan in 20 months including charges. Pay faster and save costs. Other size loans in proportion. No questions asked of friends or employer. Private offices.

2. To apply: Phone or see manager. Tell him how much money you want and when you want it. No obligation. Loan same day if you call before 10:00 a. m.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

What a storm! That sure was a hum dinger and when you have a rain storm this time of year, it must mean something. It almost blew me out of bed and when I got up to put the windows down, it seemed like the ocean was coming up the street.

This might mean something. . . . H. W. Booher of 102 West Garfield tells your correspondent, that Wednesday, he was very much surprised to find two caterpillars taking a walk. He claims they had on their winter suits and were carring a suit case apiece. A sign printed in bold letters on the side of one suit case read Miami and the other read St. Petersburg. Puting all these signs together, he came to the conclusion that we are bound to have a mild winter. . . . He would like to know if he read the signs correctly.

I suppose all those able will be out tonight to celebrate the last few hours of 1936 and the first of 1937. Those unable to go out will be the lucky ones. They will have a clear head and will be wide awake Friday to enjoy the holiday. Oh me, I wish I were old enough to stay in nights.

Sometimes this column is funny and other times we make no sense. It is very difficult to be funny and no one can be funny or make a person feel funny unless that person or persons are in a funny feeling mood. Aristotle defined the comic as "some defect or ugliness which is not painful or destructive". If you think this over carefully I think you will agree. If not here is what Knat the great philosopher says, "comic is the sudden transformation of a strained expectation into nothing". Understand? It means this, as reaching after something and finding that it is not there. . . . Both definitions are very simple and hold true today the same as they did in their times.

Council To Decide Upon Audit Status

Fink To Present Recommendation At Early Meeting In January

Following a discussion of the audit of the city legal department which was started in August and is now at a standstill, Councilman James L. Fink notified colleagues in council meeting today he would, at an early January meeting of the body, make a recommendation as to whether or not the city should continue the audit of accounts and records from 1924 to 1936, inclusive.

Prior to this statement Solicitor William G. Cobau had given council an opinion in which the solicitor stated that the responsibility of making an audit for the last term of former Solicitor Robert White, 1932-1936, inclusive, rested with Controller Earl R. Wimer.

Asked by Mayor Charles E. McGrath if he could make the audit, Controller Wimer said he feared that he would be unable to make or assist in the making of the audit for the next three months. Wimer later explained informally that he is now preparing to close the city books for the year 1936.

Council wanted to know from Roy McMillen, who has done part of the audit, how much money it will cost the city to complete the audit. He frankly stated he did not know. Controller Wimer also told council that he could give no figure.

The city fathers said they believed the audit should be completed but wanted to obtain an estimate of cost before ordering it completed.

During the session Controller Wimer stated that no audit has been made since 1924. He said he would be glad to end the audit if anyone could produce a copy of any audit that has been made.

Stock Market Is Irregular End Of Year

New Highs For Year Noticed For Number Of Individual Issues

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The stock market turned highly irregular today with sugars, oils, chemicals and farm implements generally firm, while such groups as steel, motor and rail equipment were sluggish.

New highs for the year were notched by a number of individual issues, including Consolidated Oil, Texas Corp., and Seaboard in the oils; Great Western Sugar and Holly in the sugars; Loews and Deere.

Widest gains were chalked up in the chemical section. Allied Chemical led with a spurt of six points, Air Reduction and DuPont each climbed a point, and Union Carbide slightly less.

Utilities moved irregularly higher through the morning. North American and Consolidated Edison were behind large plus signs, but Columbia Gas and Public Service were slightly lower.

Rails ruled higher, while coppers slipped moderately.

United Fruit and Western Union each climbing more than a point, were individual features.

Bonds were quiet and mixed. Grains and cotton gained ground.

Heiress Suicide

Elizabeth Butterfield, 28-year-old heiress of the Young-Quinlan Minneapolis department store millions, who disappeared a week ago, leaped to her death from the eighteenth floor of a midtown New York hotel. The girl had been ill for some time, and more recently had suffered a nervous breakdown.

OVER 12,000 ALREADY HAVE NUMBERS HERE

When the United States government's new social security tax on payrolls and wages and salaries takes effect tomorrow, over 12,000 social security account numbers will have been assigned to workers here, it was learned at the post office today.

"We're hurrying the job along," M. N. Marshall, supervising the social security registration work, reported.

Second notices have gone out to many employes in the district to report at the office to correct their applications immediately, Marshall said, and those notices apparently are getting action.

The one per cent payroll, wage and salary "tapping" of Uncle Sam which establishes the new social security fund will commence this week.

Postmaster Richard E. Steen still was without word today concerning the location of the proposed regional office of the Social Security board here.

Loyalty Campaign At Italian Church

The Loyalty campaign will be ushered in at the Italian M. E. church, on Sunday with the administration of the Lord's Supper at both the morning and evening service.

Every member of the congregation will be asked to sign a pledge card promising to attend at least one service, each Sunday during the first six months of 1937, and thus show their loyalty first to his Master and then to his church. Many cards have already been signed and returned to the pastor and many more are expected on Sunday.

WRECKERS FREE TRUCK

It required the use of two wreckers to pull a truck from the mud along the Covert Station road shortly before noon today. The truck was coming towards New Castle loaded with coal when it sank in the mud a short distance past the Burton Powder plant.

One wrecker was phoned and it was found that it was impossible to get the truck out of the mud without another tow car pulling on the other side of the truck. The truck had sunk in the mud up to the running board.

Must Have Permit To Sell Milk Here

"No milk dairy may sell milk in this city after January 1, without a 1937 license-permit. The state law prohibits the granting of any extension of time," read a bulletin issued today by Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer.

The bulletin added that "a dairy wishing to secure a permit to sell raw milk must now when making application for a 1937 permit, present a certificate from the state and federal milk board stating his herd has been tested and found free from Bangs disease or bring satisfactory proof that he had made application to the state and federal board for the test."

According to Health Officer Dr. Steen, Bangs disease is a contagious disease of cattle and will cause undulant fever in humans. Undulant fever is a serious disease and is often fatal, the health officer explained.

State Banks Have $2,320,467,879 On Hand, Is Report

Figures Show Increase In Deposits Of $117,134,264 During Past 12 Months

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31—A total of $2,320,467,879 was on deposit in Pennsylvania state banks today, an increase of $117,134,264 during the past 12 months and a new high since December 31, 1930, Dr. Luther A. Harr, secretary of banking reported.

Total resources, Harr said, were set at $3,020,763,013, an increase of $204,271,266 for the year.

Pointing out that "state banks are finding an increased field for the employment fo their funds," Harr reported loans of $445,396,463 were listed among the resources, an increase of $3,684,348.

"Loans on, and mortgages and judgments owned show a decrease of $8,806,255, but real estate owned increased by $10,345,336," he said. "A sign that banks are strengthening their position is indicated by the fact that their bills payable account shows a reduction of $1,086,762 for the year."

A total of 3,735,082 depositors, an increase of 12,914 since last year, was reported.

Service Tonight At Pentecostal Church

Evangelist Billy Roberts Will Tell Story Of Life At Watchnight Service

Guests at the First Pentecostal watchnight service tonight will be Evangelist and Mrs. Billy Roberts, talented gospel singers and speakers.

Evangelist Roberts has had an unusual career and his life story tomorrow night, in which he will tell of his conversion at Seattle, Wash., promises to be of great interest.

The service will open at 9 o'clock and will continue through to the arrival of the New Year. There will be a number of other attractions at the service, the pastor, Rev. Boston W. Turner, announces.

Solicitor Collects $111,000 Since May

One hundred and eleven thousand dollars in deliquent taxes and for general improvements, were collected at the office of the city solicitor since May, this year, according to an estimate provided at that office today.

Four Hundred Babies Born At Jameson Hospital During 1936

With the closing of the year 1936 tonight, the Jameson Memorial hospital closes a year of unusual activity according to Dr. W. W. Bissell, managing director of the hospital. It has been a year of unparalleled service to this community and the statistical data reveals only a part of that service.

During the year ending December 27, there were 2735 admissions to the hospital which represented 30,491 patient days. Approximately nine persons per day were admitted for service in the hospital, some of them suffering from disease, others injured by accident, many for such operations as tonsilectomies or appendectomies.

During the year there were given 8744 free days of service, or in other words, about 35 per cent of the hospital service was free. If the average stay of patients was 10 days this would mean 874 patients on the free list. The average is merely used as an illustration and does not indicate what the actual average is.

In the 12 months of 1936 there were 401 babies brought into the world or more than one every day of the year. There were 1481 operations performed, or an average of about four per day.

There were 292 accident cases admitted during the year and 2619 X-ray procedures taken and 14,008 laboratory procedure. Meals served totaled 173,145 which is a lot of meals. This was divided as follows: Patients, 74,689, personnel, 98,456.

Dr. Bissell and the board of directors look forward to 1937 as a year of even more efficient service in the institution that stands as a safeguard against accident and disease in this community.

On Court House Hill

In a decision handed down Wednesday afternoon Judge James A. Chambers upheld the findings of Squire John T. Brinton of Shenango township in the case of Clark and Clair Brown and Harry Gurley. The three young men had been arrested in August for disorderly conduct at a road house on the Ellwood road and were fined by Brinton. They carried the case to the Lawrence county court and lost their appeal.

Dan Cupid shows a lighter score in Lawrence county for 1936 than he did in 1935 but only because of the new Pennsylvania law requiring three days notice of intention. Prior to that, after the state of Ohio had passed such a law New Castle was the mecca for the romantic of Ohio. Marriage licenses boomed and the General Assembly cut it off by passing a similar law. In 1936 there were 908 marriage licenses issued in the office of the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts. This was an average of nearly four for each working day.

The divorce figures show that about one couple in ten, basing it on the marriage license figures for 1936, were separted by divorce. In 1936 92 divorces were issued in Lawrence county. In other words ten per cent of the romances seemed to have gone fff-t.

Letters of administration have been issued to Jane P. McCarnes in the estate of the late Martha McCarnes, who died November 9, 1936. The letters were issued by Register and Recorder William R. Hanna.

So many appeals from assessments have been made before the county commissioners sitting as a board of appeal, that it has been necessary to continue the hearings for the first, second and third wards to early January.

Two of the city board of appeals dropped in on Tuesday but not for a social visit. Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Councilman J. Myron Rice appeared to protest increases in their assessments. They claimed the increase was not warranted.

The tags for Lawrence county dogs have arrived in the office of County Treasurer Joseph Hartland but the books have not yet arrived. The books should be here by Monday when it is thought licenses can be procured.

Custodian Clifford James of the Lawrence county court house has made a study of faces in the past several years and claims he can tell almost invariably just where a person wants to go. For example if a young man and a young woman come in with a moonstruck look on their faces, seem hesitant about where they want to go and act as though they had a secret hidden from the world, they want the marriage license bureau. If a citizen storms in with blood in his eye, he is either going to make an appeal on his assessments or else he is going to pay his taxes. If he has an appealing look on his face, smiles rather apologetically and gives way to others in the swinging doors he wants a favor from the commissioners or wants Bill Hanna to recommend him for a job. If he has a mysterious look in his eyes, seems a trifle furtive and slides down the hall on noiseless heels, he's looking for the sheriff to give him a hot tip on where some shenanigan is going on. If he walks in with a careless air, speaks to everybody and has his hands in his pockets he's looking for the court room to hear a case.

Democrats of the county will attend the inauguration of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt in style on January 20, it was announced today by Register and Recorder William R. Hanna. A special train will leave New Castle on the night of January 19, and some 300 of the faithful are expected to be on board.

It was announced today that Alex Thomas, George Andrews and Miss Mary Price will be on the staff of the unemployment insurance office which will open in the Johnson building early next week. The office will be in charge of Ralph T. Jordan. The arrangement is temporary it is said, although it is hoped to make a permanent office of it.

Clifford L. Vance, efficient court crier, is coming in for considerablbe ribbing, all of it good natured. Cliff has fallen victim to the wiles of Dan Cupid and seems to be one of the last victims of Leap Year. He will be married tonight.

Crime Increases; Likewise Arrests; During Past Year

New Castle Police Take 2,683 Persons Into Custody During 1936

Crime increased in 1936 over the preceding year. However, apprehensions increased accordingly according to Chief of Police Ralph Criswell.

Only one murder occurred. Bryant Fowler having been slain by William Scott, according to police. Scott is yet at large but will, in time, be brought to "book" according to the chief. Both are colored.

Pasqualle Georgeo was jailed for the alleged feloniously wounding and intent to kill of Sam Ross, now a hospital patient. One man was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and has applied for a new trial.

There was an increase in the number of persons arrested this year for "tipsy driving." Practically all of them who were prosecuted by police were convicted, the chief of police said.

A considerable number of robberies and hold-ups were cleared up. Some of the alleged highwaymen were convicted and sentenced and others are awaiting sentence. Two persons were arrested and charged with violating the Uniform firearms act.

The number of arrests for the first 11 months and 29 days of December of this year totalled 2,683. For the full twelve months of 1935 the number of arrests totalled 2,290.

AWAITS HEARING

In default of bail, Steve Kochioski, 309 Preston avenue, was sent to Lawrence county jail pending a hearing to take place soon in the office of Alderman B. J. Biondi, East Long avenue Kochioski was arrested on a charge of assault and battery, charges preferred by John Stitzer.
